Swindle Victim Sues To Regain Investments

E. Liverpool Woman Says Wingatee Bought Gifts With Money

LISBON — Mrs. Minnie Gibbs of East Liverpool, one of the victims of Tommie L. Wingatee's gold mine stock swindle last fall, has filed a suit in common pleas court at Lisbon to regain some of her investments.

In her petition, Mrs. Gibbs charges her money was used to purchase gifts for several East Liverpool residents and to buy furnishings for a home occupied by Wingatee and his bride of a few days, Mrs. LaRue Mooney of East Liverpool.

Mrs. Gibbs' petition asks that a court order be issued decreeing and impressing a trust in favor of the plaintiff on the property and funds of the defendants and any sold or disposed of be made to account to the court for the proceeds. She also asks that a receiver be appointed to take and hold custody of the property and money in the hands of the defendants.

Named as defendants were Mrs. Mooney, Wingatee, Peter Tarbuck, Ethel Peterson, Ralph Mooney, William Lewis and the Strouss-Hirshberg Co. of Youngstown.

Mrs. Gibbs claims she invested a total of $49,935.44 with Wingatee and he failed to invest or buy stock with only a small part of the money.

She said a check for $24,168.64 was returned to her following Wingatee's arrest last September shortly after his marriage.

The plaintiff further stated in her petition Wingatee and Mrs. Mooney offered to return the other $25,766.80 and gave her a 1952 Lincoln, three diamond rings and a $10,000 mortgage on Mrs. Mooney's home on St. Clair Ave. as security.

She claims she sold the Lincoln for $3,200 and the rings have a value of about $500 and not $100,000 as declared by Wingatees. She said Wingatee claims the diamond was the "Kenya Stone" and was delivered to East Liverpool by a Pinkerton Detective.

Mrs. Gibbs said the money she turned over was not invested as represented but was used "fraudulently, frivolously and squandered recklessly.

She claims her money was used to purchase a $2,213.94 car for Lewis, $2,395.46 for a car for Tarbuck, $2,800 for a car for Peterson, $3,000 for a car for Ralph Mooney. These cars were all given without consideration.

She also claims her money was used in the purchase of a $1,294.50 Hammond organ from the Youngstown firm, $1,018.49 for equipment at the Camera Mart in East LIverpool and now in possession of Mrs. Mooney and her son, Ralph Mooney, $1,000 for home appliances and $1,788.99 for furniture and household goods.

Mrs. Gibbs also claims Mrs. Mooney has 3,300 shares of Canadian stocks purchased with her money.

The lengthy petition also said Wingatee misrepresented himself to the plaintiff in that he was a member of a Toronto stock exchange company, he came from a wealthy family, that he was financially able to give sums of money away and he was "Bernard Baruch of Canada."

Mrs. Gibbs said she relied on his misrepresentation in investing her money.

Wingatee In Prison

Wingatee is now in the Ohio Penitentiary serving up to five years for selling unregistered stocks and selling without a license and a 1-7-year term for bigamy.

He was convicted by a jury on the stock sale violations and entered a guilty plea to the bigamy charge.

He admitted marrying Mrs. Mooney while still the husband of Mrs. Agnes Snelling of Huntington Park, Calif.

Two other suits are still pending in common pleas court as an aftermath of the affair.

Mrs. Mooney has filed for an annulment of her marriage to Wingatee and she has also filed to regain her home, the rings and car given to Mrs. Gibbs.

Ike Talks Cuts In Budget With Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, preparing to make a major announcement to the nation on spending and defense plans, talked over contemplated cuts with congressional leaders today, and one declared they will be "right on the edge" of balancing the budget.

This word came from Sen. Bridges (R-NH) who said Eisenhower will call for "very sizable" cuts in former President Truman's 78 billion dollar budget.

In more cautious language, Republican Leader Taft of Ohio said the administration has "substantial savings" in defense spending in sight but probably won't announce any figures for another two weeks.

Eisenhower's public word was to come at his weekly news conference set for 2 p. m. EST.

The White House gave reporters to understand that the President would say how much he thinks can safely be cut from the 46 billion dollar military spending budget proposed by the Truman administration.

Preliminary to the news conference, the President scheduled meetings with congressional leaders and with the National Security Council.

Auction Set To Push Pool Drive To Goal

The American Legion Auxiliary will hold a benefit auction Saturday, May 9, at the Legion home on E. State St. with proceeds earmarked for the swimming pool fund.

Horace Schwartz, chairman of organizations in the pool drive, said the fund is only a few-thousand dollars short of its goal and it is hoped the auction will put it over the top.

Members of the Legion Auxiliary plan to call every home in Salem personally to get old furniture and bric-a-brac for the sale. Arrangements will be made by the Auxiliary to pick up any items to be given.

The auction will begin promptly at 10 a.m. with Salem auctioneer, Harold McCrea, taking the bids.

Army Speeds 12 Freed POWs To U. S. Homes

Some Hospitalized; More To Leave Base In California Today

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Twelve American fighting men who may never fight again sped to their homes in the far corners of the U. S. today.

They are the vanguard of the first 35 repatriated POWs to reach home from Korea.

More will fly out of this sprawling air base later today and tomorrow. And another 63 will be borne swiftly across the Pacific in giant C97 Stratocruisers.

A few of those who arrived here yesterday aren't going home immediately. They are going to hospitals where doctors will try to mend their shattered bodies and broken minds.

Yesterday's repatriates were happy—but they cringed from the welcome that awaited them.

Before they left the plane they sent out the word—"We don't want to talk to any reporters. We have talked enough already."

Then the 26 walking wounded filed off the big plane. They walked straight to a waiting bus. Some smiled, some waved, all looked around curiously.

Little emotion showed on their faces. But strain was there, and pain, and the lines carved deep by war and captivity.

White-jacketed medics then went aboard and brought out the nine litter patients. An amputee, a man with tuberculosis, a soldier who couldn't bend his leg.

While the litter cases were being carried tenderly into a huge ambulance, there was a sudden commotion by the bus.

Pvt. Jose Garcia, blinded in one eye by the blast of a Communist grenade, slammed down a window and greeted his kid brother Alfonso in a tearful, joyous reunion.

Alfonso had reached the field late and got lost in the milling crowd. He finally spotted his brother and pounded the bus to attract attention.

Throughout the afternoon the two brothers stayed close together. They left together last night for home. After a 30-day leave Pvt. Garcia will go into an Army hospital. Days, weeks, or months later he will come out and start life over.

The bus and the ambulance moved slowly, almost gently, across the base to the bright new hospital.

Reporters, cameramen, television technicians, enthusiastic bystanders followed in droves.

For nearly two hours the men were kept in seclusion. Navy, Air Force and Army doctors checked them over, deciding who needed immediate, specialized care . . . who could be sent to hospitals near their homes . . . who could be released at once on 30-day leaves.

The men ate two-inch steaks and talked to doctors and caught a welcome 40 winks.

Then five repatriates were ushered into the hospital auditorium. Two were litter cases. They were placed in hospital beds ringed by newspaper, TV and newsreel cameramen and reporters. The other three were seated.

The barrage of questions began—questions that had been asked and answered in Panmunjom, Freedom Village, Tokyo, Honolulu. Questions that must be answered again when they reach home.

Melon Patch Shooting Brings $10,000 Suit

LISBON—A common pleas court jury was seated Wednesday to hear a civil suit in which a Beloit area resident is seeking $10,000 for damages when shot while stealing watermelons.

Irvin Buchs, 27, of Beloit R. D. 2 is seeking the amount from Harvey Galbreath of Westville.

Buchs, then 21, claimed he was hit in the right side by pellets from a shotgun fired by Galbreath Oct. 8, 1946.

Buchs admitted on the stand yesterday he and another youth had gone to the farm on the North Georgetown Rd. to steal the melons.

The plaintiff claims he has been permanently disabled.

The jury includes Maurine Brown and Richard Sponseller of Columbiana, Elsie Carle of Hanoverton and Nova Davis of East Rochester.

2 Ohioans On List Of POWs Still Alive

ENTERPRISE, O. (AP) — This Hocking County farm community of 125 persons received the good news today that one of its sons, Pfc. Rudolph A. Pavlik, was alive in a prisoner of war camp near the Yalu River in North Korea.

Cpl. Everett W. Ritenour, 21, of Woodstock, Va., a prisoner of war exchanged by the Communists, listed Pavlik among his friends still in the clutches of the Reds.

Mrs. Andrew Mathias, proprietor of the village's general store, said Pavlik was captured about 29 months ago. She said the soldier's father was in the store Wednesday and commented he had not heard from him for some time.

The Pavlik home, back in the hills some distance from Enterprise, has no phone. But Mrs. Mathias said, "We'll get word up to them some way."

Both Ohio POW's named by Ritenour have one sad thing in common — both have lost a parent and neither knows about the death.

The father of Pvt. Joe Homanai, 21, of Wadsworth, the other Ohio prisoner, and Pavlik's mother have died since the soldiers' imprisonment.

Republic Steel Sets Production Record

CLEVELAND (AP)—Republic Steel Corp. made more steel ingots in the first three months of this year than in any quarter of its history and its sales and operating revenue of $292,918,852 also was a record high, the firm reported today.

Net earnings of $13,779,049, or $2.26 a share, compared with $11,759,513, or $1.92 a share, in the first quarter of 1952 when sales and operating revenue totalled $261,599,663.

First quarter federal taxes more than doubled the net income, Republic said, adding up to $28,350,000.

Republic's steel production for January, February and March was 2,607,075 tons.

For each sales dollar, profit was 4.7 cents in the past quarter, compared with 4.5 cents a year ago.

The company also announced the appointment of Ernest R. Johnson as assistant vice president in charge of operations. He has been manager of Republic's alloy district, with plants in Canton and Massillon. Oscar A. Bamberger, assistant district manager, will succeed him.

2 Rival Probes Held At Hospital

Brutality, Narcotics At Cambridge Studied

CAMBRIDGE, O. (AP)—Two rival investigations of conditions at Cambridge State Hospital were carried out Wednesday and the next step in the political hot potato apparently depends on the senators who headed the first quiz.

State Sens. Ralph Humphrey (R-Ashtabula) and John Corrigan (D-Cuyahoga) listened to testimony first. When they refused to allow Welfare Director John Lamneck to cross-examine the witnesses, Lamneck ordered his own hearing in the afternoon.

The senators were investigating charges of poor food, brutality and narcotic addiction by hospital staff members. One of Lamneck's witnesses. O. J. Sharp of Byesville, said the Senate investigation was a political smear at the administration of Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

Two hospital employes, Mrs. Elsie Garen and Paul Davis, testified at both hearings.

Mrs. Garen told Lamneck hospital patients got good and adequate food. She told the senators the food at the hospital was poor and inadequate until the Senate began its probe of conditions at the institution.

Mrs. Garen said she once saw an attendant slap the bare leg of a patient and others grab patients by the wrist to dicipline or sub-

E. Merl Young Sentenced On Perjury Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — E. Merl Young today was sentenced to serve from four months to two years in prison for lying to senators who dug into his mink coat buying and high financing while investigating alleged influence on RFC loans.

Young, 38, asked for probation but U. S. District Judge Matthew F. McGure turned down the plea. However, the judge expressed the hope authorities will feel the interests of justice have been served when Young completes four months in prison.

Taking into account good time, Young could get out by serving a little less than four months.

Young told Judge McGuire he has "suffered mentally, physically and financially." He said the judge would not regret it if he granted probation.

The judge replied that if Young had been convicted of an ordinary crime flowing out of human frailty, he would have been inclined to grant him probation.

"But perjury strikes very deeply at the whole structure of government," the judge commented.

Cladmetals Merges With Salem-Brosius

An overwhelming majority of American Cladmetals Co. stockholders voted approval of a proposed plan of merger with Salem-Brosius, Inc. at their annual meeting in Pittsburgh, it was reported today.

Cladmetals directors had resolved to place the matter before them at a meeting held April 10. By agreement, the merger will automatically go into effect Friday, if Salem-Brosius stockholders add their approval.

On Friday, Salem-Brosius stockholders will be handed 7,593,750 of 9,123,767 then outstanding shares of Cladmetals common stock in return for their company's assets. The name of the reorganized company will revert to Salem-Brosius, Inc., and management will be taken over by existing Salem-Brosius personnel.

Former American Cladmetals activities will be assigned to a division of the company for the time being, and Salem Brosius will continue to design and manufacture industrial heating furnaces and steel mill equipment as before.

The new organization intends to expand its manufacturing facilities into the former Cladmetals plant in Carnegie, Pa., as soon as it is possible to do so without interrupting production schedules.

Move Would Be Short Cut Out Of POW Snarl

Reds Reluctant To Go Home Would Be Freed, Truce Talkers Warned

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The Allies warned the Communists today they might take a short cut through the snarled prisoner exchange problem by simply releasing 32,000 North Koreans who don't want to go home.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, chief Allied negotiator, said that turning the prisoners free in South Korea would follow a pattern created by the Reds themselves.

He also told the Communists to nominate a non-Asian country as neutral caretaker for 48,000 Communist prisoners who don't want to go home and made it clear the Allies would discuss little else until that's done.

Meeting Unproductive

In an unproductive, 51-minute meeting, Harrison said that choosing the neutral caretaker nation must come next. He added

"All Asian nations are located very close to countries dominated by Communists and might therefore be subjected to Communist military, economic or political influence."

The delegations meet again Friday at 11 a.m.

Harrison told newsmen the Communists "talk a lot about concessions, but on the vital point of ultimate disposition of prisoners there has been no concession of any kind."

He repeated his contention that the Red proposals would indirectly force prisoners to choose between return against their will or endless captivity.

To Meet Friday

Meanwhile, Rear Adm. John C. Daniel said liaison officers of both sides would meet at 10 a.m. Friday to discuss problems concerning exchange of disabled prisoners. He did not say what the problems were.

The Communists have said that 684 disabled Allied prisoners (including 149 Americans) turned over last week were all the disabled they had. But those prisoners told of more sick and wounded Allied prisoners in North Korean camps.

The Allies have been returning 500 Red sick and wounded daily. Delivery of 250 Chinese and 250 North Koreans Friday will bring the total of returned Reds to about 6,000, almost 200 more than were promised.

At Munsan, 500 sick and wounded Reds threatened Allied guards in a short-lived rebellion on a hospital train taking them to Panmunjom for return to Communism. The 375 civilian internees and 125 North Korean soldiers finally quieted before they were unloaded for the ambulance ride from Munsan to Panmunjom.

The same problem that broke up the armistice talks last Oct. 8 remains:

Although it's agreed that prisoners who want to go home will be sent back immediately afer an armistice, what of the 48,000 who refuse repatriation.?

Daisy Stackhouse Has Taught 'Home Ec' 17 Years

Planned College Career, But Chose Damascus

By PEARL WALKER

When Miss Daisy Marie Stackhouse came to the village of Damascus Jan. 1, 1936, to teach in Goshen Township High School (now Goshen Union) she planned to stay only one semester, because she had educated herself to be a college teacher. But, both students and parents cooperated in making school life so agreeable for her, that Miss Stackhouse stayed on for 17 years.

Born and reared at Kensington, she attended Kent State University for two years and received her master's degree from Ohio State University. She is completing 30 years of teaching this spring.

She came to Damascus from Bedford where she was head of the High School Home Economics department and manager of a big school cafeteria. There she started one of the first five High School Home Economic clubs in the United States.

As advisor of the Ohio State Home Economics Clubs in 1937, 38 and 39, she started the first news letter sent out by the state organization. This letter now comes out in printed form.

Miss Stackhouse once published a Home Economics workbook for seventh graders. She has also written articles on this subject for several magazines.

But photography is her "side line." She majors on pictures of weddings and children. Flowers are her hobby, both house plants and in the garden. Miss Stackhouse is a member of the Damascus Methodist Church.

The Home Economics Club at Goshen High was organized a month before Miss Stackhouse came there with eight students enrolled. This year the club has 75. Also teacher of the seventh and eighth grades, she instructs a total of 110 students daily.

THE CLUB HAS two aims, Miss Stackhouse explains, (1) to make the girl a good citizen and (2) to make the girl a good wife and mother. More than 1,000 girls have passed through the clubs since Miss Stackhouse began teaching at Goshen and most of them are homemakers, she stated. A few have been home economics teachers before their marriage. A checkup reveals that out of the 1,000 girls only two have been divorced.

The teacher states that the Home Economics Course includes subjects which touch on every phase of life and that the girls are held to a high moral standard.

With the cooperation of parents and students, Miss Stackhouse organized the school cafeteria in December, 1950. Up until this year she did the buying, planning, bookkeeping, hiring of the help, in connection with a full day's teaching. Now she is in the roll of legal advisor.

The cafeteria serves an average of 425 daily, giving a full meal for 25 cents. The state pays five cents on each student's lunch.

Under the direction of Miss Stackhouse, assisted by parents, students, and the Mothers and Booster Clubs, the cafeteria has purchased equipment worth $3,500. Newest piece of equipment in the Home Economics room is a zigzag embroidery machine.

The girls earned the money for this machine and also for their automatic washer and freezer.

MISS STACKHOUSE and five mothers will accompany 28 girls from the Home Economic Club of Gosnen Union High School on the senior farewell trip May 8 and 9. Mothers include Mrs. Clarence Weingart, Mrs. Leland Holloway, Mrs. Lorin Cameron, Mrs. Mary Bricker and Mrs. Walter Wyss.

The group will spend the first day in Detroit, Dearborn Village and the museum. Fom there they will go to Holland, Mich., to attend the tulip festival.

A part of the proceeds from the Goshen Union High's annual Spring Style Show last evening will be used to finance this trip.

MISS DAISY STACKHOUSE, second from left, helps girls model dresses they have made at Goshen Union High school. The students are Carol Phillips 10th grade; Marylee Cameron, 12th grade; Barbara Umstead, 12th grade; Shirley Nutt, 11th grade; Geraldine Swiger, 11th grade; Cora Delight Shewell, 11th grade and Phyllis Maurer, 12th grade. Cora and Phyllis are still working on their dresses at the machines.

Firm Ordered To Accept Metal, Machinery Union

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Labor Relations board today ordered the Lima Electric Products, Inc., of Lima, O., to bargain collectively with the Metal and Machinery Workers of America, an independent union.

The board found the company guilty of unfair labor practices in refusing to bargain with the union and threatening employes with reprisals for union activities.

The NLRB ordered the company to stop interrogating workers about their union affiliations.

The NLRB found the Metal and Machinery Workers to be the lawful bargaining agent for all production and maintenance workers at the plant, which manufactures electric motors.

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The state Supreme Court held 5-2 Wednesday that Ohio's film censorship law is constitutional.

Assembly Kills Side Issues

Legalized Bingo, Open Relief Rolls Dropped

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The 100th General Assembly started to jell today as various side issues were killed.

The House Welfare Committee put its "no" on a bill to allow citizens to look at public assist- committee killed a proposal to citizens to look at public asistance rolls. The Senate Judiciary put legalized bingo on the ballot next fall.

These were the two major developments as the Legislature Wednesday night began to get down to the essential business of the session—the budget, highway and school problems.

The bill by Sen. Ross Pepple (R-Allen) patterned after an Indiana measure which caused a national ruckus two years ago—would have required quarterly reports to county and township officials on the names and addresses of public assistance clients.

The House Welfare Committee killed the Senate-approved bill 13-2. A Republican move for reconsideration in the House is possible.

The bingo measure, by Sen. Robert R. Shaw (R-Franklin) was admittedly a shot in the dark. Shaw told newsmen when he offered the proposed constitutional amendment he had no interest in it other than a hope the issue could be brought out into the open and put to the voters if the legislature desired.

The General Assembly, in 1943, inserted a clause in Ohio's anti-gambling law permitting lotteries if they were for no one's profit.

But it is in apparent contradiction of an Ohio constitutional provision that lotteries "shall be forever prohibited" in Ohio. There never has been a Supreme Court decision on the issue.

Action on the relief rolls and bingo measures capped a legislative day which saw the Senate defeat two measures and the Senate majority Republican leader take a blast at lobbyists.

The defeated bills:

A measure by Sen. Raymond Hildebrand (R-Lucas) to reduce the maximum hours a city fireman may be on duty from 72 to 63 hours a week.

A proposal by Sen. Harry E Davis (R-Cuyahoga) to provide for election of the 17 House members from Cuyahoga County from sub-districts within the county.

The blast at lobbyists came from Sen. C. Stanley Mechem who told the Senate immediately after defeat of the firemen's hours bill:

"I don't like the lobbying that has been going on on this bill behind the railing (which separates the Senate floor proper from the rest of the chamber). I don't want those things to continue. That type of lobbying was one of the things which helped defeat the bill."

Corporal Tells Of Ordeal That Killed 310 Of 350 Americans

TOKYO (AP)—'I'll give you a week to live—I get your boots when they take you to the hill,' a buddy told Cpl. Wendell H. Treffery.

"My buddy didn't want my boots—he was building up my morale," the thin, red-haired Treffery, of Terryville, Conn., said in an interview today.

The hill was the frozen, common grave of Americans who died while prisoners of the Communists at Kangye, Korea, in the terrible winter of 1950-51.

"I lasted the week," said Treffery. "And then he said he'd get my boots in another week. I kept on living—I wouldn't let myself die. Whenever I got awful low, really down in the gutter, I could hear my mother saying like she always said: 'Keep your chin up.' I'll never know how I made it but I'm here and alive."

Of 350 U. S. infantrymen captured by Chinese on Nov. 30, 1950, south of the Changjin Reservoir, Treffery is one of less than 40 still living.

His feet froze.

The flesh fell off his toes.

A Korean nurse snipped off eight of his toes with garden shears.

He broke off two with his own fingers.

During four attacks of dysentery, Treffery's weight dropped from 150 to 60 pounds.

A former medic with the 7th Division, he was one of the American prisoners returned by the Communists at Panmunjom last week. Here is his agonizing story as he told it today:

"We were caught in a Communist ambush, about 350 of us—Marines and 7th Division men. It was a hard fight but there wasn't any way out—we were surrounded.

"A Chinese hollered from the top of a hill—asking our senior officer to come and talk to him. Our officers held a conference and then our senior officer, a Marine major, walked down the road and up to the hill. He talked to the Chinese and came back.

"The major had made a deal with the Chinese. The deal was, that our wounded would be sent back to our own lines if the rest of us surrendered. The promise was not kept.

"The Chinese marched those of us away who could walk. We spent a freezing night in some cabins not far away. There were 120 of us then. Next morning we were marched back past where the ambush had taken place. The wounded were all still there, only now they weren't wounded. They were frozen to death, about 230 bodies.

"Of the 120 of us, many were wounded. I am a medic, and I did the best I could. The Chinese took away my bandages, tweezers and scissors but I hid my last six shots of morphine in my boot and when a man's pain got so bad he couldn't take it I'd give him a shot.

"There was a Texan, I remember. He was shot to pieces. I gave him one of the six shots and he slept one night because of it. I guess it was his last night—alive. Next morning, he was too weak to move, and the Chinese left him there to freeze and die.

"The march to Kangye lasted 18 days. We marched zig-zag and in very direction. I think they were trying to break us down. When a man couldn't go any farther and dropped out, he was left to die. The ones that dropped out—we never saw them again.

"I had a shrapnel wound in the chest, but it didn't bother me. On the second day, we walked through slush and that night I slept in a cow stall. The temperature dropped to about 20 below zero that night. I woke up next morning and my feet were frozen. The Chinese had us out in the road before I had a chance to get my toes unfrozen.

"On Dec. 10 the Chinese guards turned us over to Korean guards and the march went on. They have no feeling for human beings. They'd stick our men with bayonets and laugh and joke about it.

"Of the 120 who started the march, 80 got the valley camp at Kangye where we spent the rest of the winter. The Koreans locked all of us up in a big room. They wouldn't let us out to use a latrine. So our living quarters were our latrine. We all had dysentery by that time and you can see that the room wasn't a good place to be after awhile.

"When a man died, the Koreans would tumble his body out of the room, and take it up the hill to the grave.

Jewell Furney, Lottie Troll and Ruth Backstrom are the committee, appointed by the vice president, Sara Groner, who presided in the absence of the president, Margaret Barrow. Installation will be at the following meeting, Tuesday evening, June 23. Mrs. Barrow and the secretary, Alta Mulch, were appointed delegates to the state convention in Columbus, May 22-24.

Mae Smith, Sylvia Smith and Jean Funkhouser were appointed an auditing committee to report at the end of the club year.

Reports were heard on a meeting in Barberton Sunday of District 4 of Ohio Business & Professional Women's Clubs. The Columbiana club was represented by Mrs. Barrow, Hazel Rearick, Helen Eckert, Margaret Morrow and Estella Esterly.

Van Lane of Station WLIO, East Liverpool, club speaker Tuesday evening, talked on radio and television.

Pauline Drexler, immediate past president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of York Drexler Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was honored by the auxiliary at a dinner in Grace Evangelical and Reformed church Tuesday evening.

Red, white and blue table decorations carried out the patriotic theme, and there was a corsage of red, white and blue carnations at each place setting. A corsage of red rose buds was presented Mrs. Drexler, and the new president, Mrs. Donna Caldwell, presented her with the past president's pin.

After dinner, the regular meeting of the auxiliary was held at the post home, Mrs. Caldwell presiding. Plans were discussed for the sale of poppies on poppy day, Saturday, May 23, the Saturday preceding Decoration day.

Gobrecht, formerly of Grace Evangelical and Reformed church, Columbiana, and Miss Anastasia Mossides, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry K. Mossides of Massillon, in Grace church, Massillon, at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

The ceremony was performed by the bridegroom's father. Two hundred attended the reception in the American Legion home following the ceremony. The newlyweds were scheduled to leave today for Iran, where young Mr. Gobrecht will be in the civil service of the U. S. Government. He is a veteran of World War II.

In attendance at the wedding from Columbiana were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kissell, Mrs. Jennie Hum, Mrs. Fred Byers, and Mrs. Norman Pregenzer, who was accompanied by her son and daughter in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Pregenzer, Jr., of Lisbon.

Girl, 12, Admits Kidnap Story Is Hoax

MONTEBELLO, Calif. (AP)—A 12-year-old girl, object of an all-night search by police and hundreds of neighbors, walked into a Hollywood store yesterday and announced:

"I've been abducted. I want to phone my mother."

But after checking her story, police decided Barbara Hellman has a vivid imagination.

She finally admitted she hadn't been kidnaped at all, but merely ran away. Police said a reprimand by a teacher and fear of parental wrath prompted her flight.

Five of the tots were children of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Derry who lived in the house on the town's outskirts. Firemen said the blaze apparently was caused by an overheated stove.

New Turnpike Will Cut 3 Hours Off Trip Across North Ohio

(Editor's note: The Ohio Turnpike Commission has had many a jolt on the rutty road toward actual construction of a toll superhighway across Northern Ohio. This last story in a series which has sketched the beginnings and battles of the turnpike project will attempt a peek into the future. It tries to answer the question, "What will the turnpike be like?")

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS (AP) — Win, lose or draw in what may be its last major legal fight, the Ohio Turnpike Commission will build its 241-mile "dream highway" across Northern Ohio.

But don't get the family limousine gassed up right away for the first trip from the Pennsylvania border to the Indiana line via the turnpike just yet.

As a matter of fact, unless the family buggy is young and fresh, she may never live to roll on the Northern Ohio Turnpike.

Right now it looks like late 1955 would be a likely date for the trip.

All those statements are based on what might be called informed guesses.

Friends of the turnpike project are perturbed by their latest court fight. It is with the asphalt industry. The producers of so-called black-top paving have won an important round in their fight to force the commission to let them bid on turnpike paving.

The case is in the Supreme Court now. The commission seeks to upset an appellate court order requiring it to reverse its decision to take bids on Portland cement concrete only.

If the Supreme Court rules in favor of so-called "alternative" bids on asphaltic concrete, the work of preparing alternate specifications will increase the ultimate cost of building the turnpike. It also will cause further delays.

But after the shouting and the tumult dies, after the power shovels, bulldozers and trucks without number finish their job, what will it be like to ride the turnpike?

Those who have driven the 15-year-old Pennsylvania Turnpike or the newer New Jersey Turnpike know pretty well. This is for those who haven't:

From an approaching highway, you will drive in a wide circle toward the superhighway. You will stop briefly at an entry booth where you will pick up a ticket indicating where you entered the turnpike. This ticket you will surrender when you leave the toll road. When you give up the ticket, you will pay 1¼ cents a mile for your toll road travel.

From the entry ticket booth—which is a part of the whole setup they call an "interchange"—you complete the circle you started and come out on a lane parallel to two traffic lanes. This third lane will extend for several hundred yards, far enough to give you a chance to merge your car into traffic.

From that point until you reach your destination, you just drive.

There will be no crossroads, no traffic lights. Occasionally there will be a reduced-speed zone at points of merging traffic.

Oncoming cars and trucks won't bother you. They will be on an entirely separate roadway—at least 40 feet from the roadway you travel.

Sounds lovely and convenient, but is it a luxury?

Not the way friends of the turnpike talk.

Pennsylvania's east-west traffic problems was mountains. So it took over a never-used railroad bed, complete with tunnels, and made a superhighway out of it.

Ohio's east-west traffic problem, turnpike advocates say, is mountainous trucks and a traffic congestion which makes a trans-Ohio motor trip almost a nightmare.

Highway engineers say a motorist travelling between Youngstown and Toledo, for instance, will save an average of one hour and 57 minutes by using the turpike instead of Ohio 18 and U. S. 20. A big truck, over the same route, will save three hours and nine minutes.

A trip over nearly the whole length of the turnpike—231 miles from Youngstown to the Indiana line—will save an auto driver three hours and seven minutes and a trucker five hours even.

When the Ohio Turnpike is completed, only one link will be missing from the superhighway extending from Portland, Me., to Chicago. The missing link will be the Indiana Turnpike. It now is in the planning stage. It will hook up with the Ohio Turnpike only a few miles south of the Michigan border.

Some day, there may be other toll superhighways in Ohio. Gov. Frank J. Lausche has suggested a Toledo—Cincinnati route. Others would like to see a Cleveland—Columbus—Cincinnati turnpike.

But right now, the turnpike commission would be happy just to see "Project No. 1" well under way.

May Day Parade In New York Cancelled

NEW YORK (AP)—Bowing to a police edict, leftists have agreed not to hold their annual May Day parade tomorrow. They'll stage a May 1 meeting in Union Square, instead.

Previously, Leon Straus, chairman of the United Labor and People's May Day Committee, had declared a parade would be held despite the police ban. But yesterday, although unhappy about it, he called off the plans.

Italy, San Marino End "Little Cold War"

ROME (AP)—A truce finally has been declared in the pocket-size cold war between Italy and San Marino—a 38-square-mile Communist state on the Adriatic.

After years of bickering, the two republics signed a "friendship and good neighbor' treaty yesterday in Rome's Chigi Palace. Tiny San Marino—completely surrounded by Italy—agreed to refrain from operating gambling casinos or building radio and television stations which would interfere with those in Italy. Italy agreed to pay bankrupt San Marino 15 million lire ($24,000) yearly in customs fees and to sell her more tobacco.

Traffic Deaths May Equal Record

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's automobile deaths this year may come close to the record set in 1941 if the present trend continues, the National Safety Council predicted today.

Highway fatalities rose 4 per cent during the first three months of 1953, numbering 8,310 victims of traffic accidents. If the trend continues, the council said, there wil lbe 1,500 more deaths in 1953 than the 38,000 in 1951. In 1941, there were 39,969 fatalities.

Automobile deaths traditionally increase in the summer months, but show the greatest rise in December, the council noted.

Traffic deaths in March, 1953, totaled 2,840, also a 4 per cent rise over March, 1952.

More Schine And Cohn

One of the bits of information about disloyalty gathered on the fly and brought home from Europe by Sen. McCarthy's juvenile supersleuths, Schine and Cohn, was the news that Germany newspapers are taking freedom of the press seriously.

Schine and Cohn reported that some of the papers had been criticizing President Eisenhower and even Sen. McCarthy. The letter promptly passed along this information to Secretary of State Dulles.

The idea of passing it along to Dulles was to put the State Department on the spot because it operates a revolving fund for the benefit of German newspapers. The purpose of his fund is to give the newspapers financial independence from their former owners, all Nazis.

Naturally, Communists and Fascists had charged the U.S. loans would make it impossible for the beneficiaries to reflect anything but U.S. views. When the newspapers practiced freedom of the press, the Communists and Fascists were discredited.

They now have turned hopeful again, thanks to Sen. McCarthy, the only member of Congress who operates his bureau of foreign bad will.

Price Of Peace

Trygve Lie, singing his swan song as secretary general of the United Nations, made some heartfelt remarks about the importance of compromise.

The retiring U.N. official speaks with the background of an expert. He was pushed out of his job because his attempts to find a middle ground infuriated both the Kremlin and Washington. Both tried to stake him out as private property.

Only a few days before he spoke, moreover, President Eisenhower had stirred misgivings on the same subject by making it appear the United States expected the Soviet Union to knuckle under on all questions in controversy as the price of an international understanding.

That impression, it was quickly pointed out, was unintentional, but it did irreparable damage—the same kind of damage which had been done on many occasions by the irreconcilable attitude of the Kremlin.

It is not imaginable that either the United States or the Sovie Union will split differences on any basic principle. But they must be prepared, if they have any hope of settling their differences short of war, to seek compromises where compromises are possible.

The danger of their present position is that their irreconcilable differences about religion and human rights will cause them to be irreconcilable about such technicalities as boundaries and procedures.

If the price of peace is the absolute triumph of both sides in an altercation threatening to produce war, there can be no peace and all talk of peace is hypocrisy.

Beware: Lobbyists At Work

Every so often the buzz-buzz of the legislative session in Columbus is punctuated by this warning scream—"Lobbyists!"

This is supposed to warn the watching public that one side or the other has been caught committing a misdemeanor. Lobbyists have a bad name.

But whether it's Congress, the Ohio General Assembly, or some lesser legislative body, lobbying is part of the game. It needs to be understood.

First of all, both sides in every argument have lobbies. Therefore, accusations are meaningless. For instance, in the issue over whether or not interstate truckers should pay a fairer share of the cost of the roads they use, truckers have just as tough a lobby as railroads, which are accused by the truckers of fighting dirty.

Second, there's nothing wrong with lobbying, unless lobbyists get out of bounds and try to bribe legislators. They have a perfect right to make the best and strongest case they can make for their side.

Third, the tactics of a lobby do not necessarily reflect the merit or lack of merit in some particular point of view. Some of the best causes get black eyes from the excesses of their lobbyists. The historic example of this was the wild-eyed lobbying which did irreparable harm to the campaign to win votes for women. A modern example is the excessive zeal of volunteer lobbyists in danger of making it appear that a difference of opinion in the United States has become disloyalty to the American way of life.

Yelps, shrieks and screams about lobbyists are being heard once more from the direction of Columbus. They will continue until June 1, when the General Assembly expects to finish its biennial task of balancing pressure groups against one another. They are not to be taken seriously.

If you want months to seem shorter and years to seem longer, start paying for something on the installment plan.

Purpose Sincere

Test Will Show Weakness In New Loyalty Order

Every administration is entitled to a chance to deal with new problems in its own way—provided it does not reject out of hand pointed lessons of experience.

The new loyalty and security program announced by the Eisenhower administration is drastic in some respects and lenient in others. About the only way the procedures will be finally evaluated will be by tests in individual cases as they arise.

Certainly nobody who examines the long, technical executive order issued by the President—prepared after many weeks of soul-searching study by his subordinates in the Department of Justice and the Civil Service Commission—will say that it is soft so far as Communists in government are concerned.

If anything, it is a bit tough on the individual employe, who can in a case of abuse be thrown out of his job because he doesn't happen to play up to the whims of his department or agency head. He will have no right of formal review above the department or agency in which he has been employed.

There is not to be a Loyalty Review Board now, as there was under the Truman administration. Hence there will be no regular system of post-audit of individual cases of suspected disloyalty where a department or agency has "cleared' an employe of charges.

The reason given for abandoning the Loyalty Review Board is that there was no provision of law to permit its functioning. But the Loyalty Review Board was always an "advisory" board and final responsibility rested with the department or agency head.

In no case under the Truman administration was the Loyalty Review Board reversed by a department or agency head. The only instance occurred in the Vincent case under the present administration, when Secretary Dulles reversed the Loyalty Review Board, saying he had the legal right to do so—which was, of course, correct.

It isn't necessary for such a review board to have power to dismiss ineligibles, but under the last administration it was an unwritten law that the President would stand back of the Loyalty Review Board's recommendation.

Under the present administration the plan from the beginning has been to alter the whole setup and eliminate the review-board system. This now has been embodied in the executive order.

There are some administration oficials who point out that the Civil Service Commission, under the new executive order, may create advisory boards or committees to make recommendations as to the effectiveness of the procedures and that provision is made for study of defects.

Experience may show that it is desirable also to create some sort of review system inside the Civil Service Commission, so that a technical staff may review and take action on the preceedings in any case before the departments or agences where security or loyalty cases have been considered.

There now is a disposition in the new setup to avoid the word "loyalty" altogether and make dismissals entirely on a "security" basis, with the elements of "unsuitability" strongly imbedded in the meaning of the word "security." It is recognized that any immoral or dishonest person or individual of loose habits generally might become the victim of pressure or blackmail by agents of foreign governments. So "security" covers a multitude of sins.

In general, the new program deserves a fair trial. Its weakness will become apparent as experence increases.

Since the motivation of the present administration is to expose or remove bad security risks and not to conceal or try to defend them, as some officials in the State Department felt it was their duty to do under the last administration, there is every reason to believe that, if defects in the procedures arise, they will soon be corrected.

The one big weakness—the unfamiliarity of persons chosen to act as security boards in 60 different agencies with the ways and techniques of Communists and fellow travelers—cannot be corrected until the new administration gets its fingers burned by specific cases.

The Communist will lie about his connections, he will vilify his critics, he will cry out loudly about constitutional rights and how they are violated under McCarthyism and "witch hunts," and yet at the same time he will be a secret member of a Communist organization confident that he will not be caught. Or he will refuse to do his duty as a citizen and reveal his knowledge of criminal conspiracies even when he himself may not have been a part of such conspiracies.

It will not be easy to educate all the newcomers on the security boards to the tricks of the Communists—but the Eisenhower administration is going to try to erect as many safeguards as possible against gullibility or deception.

A sincere purpose is being manifested by those who have the responsibility at the Department of Justice and the Civil Service Commission to make the new program accomplish the desired end—to drive Communists and their auxiliaries out of government.

Fate Of The Cities

By TRUMAN TWILL

Edna Ferber's crack about the filthiest city in the world when she returned to New York after a trip to Europe reddened more necks than the waterfront scandals.

But what she noticed isn't peculiar to New York. The same filth and garbage which offended Miss Ferber there are offending people in all other American cities.

Things are so bad there is a conspiracy of silence to keep them from being unbearable. By mutual consent, gagging and retching are forbidden among urban residents, out of consideration for weak stomachs.

But when someone who has been away comes back and is confronted with the pigsties which pass for cities in the United States, oops! That does it. It did it for Edna Ferber.

The reaction of New Yorkers was instantaneous and typical. They conceded the truth of everything she said and began to beat out her brains for saying it. They hated the filth as much as she hated it, but they had a proprietary interest in it since it was their filth—the filth they loved.

New York really isn't the world's filthiest city. Miss Ferber didn't mean to say that, because being the world's filthiest is a distinction reserved for urban rabbit warrens in countries where people must die like flies to make room for more people.

New York is only a leading contender for the title of filthiest of all the so-called clean cities. And local pride dictates the claim that square yard for square yard and mess for mess it is no filthier than our own fair city.

Anyone who tries to make it appear there is anything second-rate about our own garbage, grime, contamination, slop, sediment, offal and mire is asking for a fight. Until someone makes a better claim, this is the dirtiest place of its size to be found anywhere, see.

In some happier day, when Americans grow tired of living in smut and smog, all cities will claim to be the neatest, cleanest, tidiest and most attractive. That is being done now in scattered instances, though without anything in particular to substantiate the claim. But, being different, the claim draws attention.

Meanwhile, most Americans will continue work 24 hours a day to make a shambles out of whatever city they happen to live in while a handful of overworked and under-equipped housekeepers try to pick up, wash away and sweep out. But white wings never catch up. Year after year they fall steadily behind, as they have since the beginning of time.

That is why all cities eventually are buried beneath their own debris and clutter. A thousand years later, archaeologists exhume them and try to understand what was the cause of death.

Edna Ferber knows. The man with the broom knows. The man on the mechanized street-sweeper knows. The dry cleaner and the laundryman know. Your nose knows. Your eye knows—the one that's full of grit.

Keep moving or they'll exhume you, too, with a loud exultant cry—"Hay, Jake, look what we found here—an aborigine!'

Government In Industry

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

When the British Labour party socialized about 20 per cent of the British economy, many in the United States were outraged. But they say nothing about the socialization of about 25 per cent of the American power industry on the theoretical basis that it would improve our rivers. If, for instance, TVA were operated on a business basis, it would have had to repay the Treasury for the investment of the United States in this enterprise.

Sokolsky

The task force of the Hoover Commission calls attention, in its report on the TVA, to this part of the law establishing this enterprise, which reads:

"In order, as soon as practicable, to make the power projects self-supporting and self-liquidating, the surplus power shall be sold at rates which, in the opinion of the Board, when applied to the normal capacity of the Authority's power facilities, will produce gross revenues in excess of the cost of production of said power. . . ."

THE TOTAL amount repaid by TVA to June 30, 1952, was approximately $40,000,000. The task force recommended a method of calculation, set up on a basis of amortizing the total investment in 50 years with interest at 3 per cent per annum. Such a calculation, brought up to June 30, 1952, would show that TVA should have repaid the Treasury the amount of $200,000,000.

It would be interesting to know exactly on what basis TVA works out a loss of approximately $160,000,000 to the Treasury and to the American taxpayer. What happens to that money?

The difficulty with reading government figures is that ordinary accounting methods are not used and it takes great skill to discover where the money is hidden.

In this connection, it is important to note that in his campaign speech at Little Rock, Arkansas, on September 3, 1952, Gen. Eisenhower said:

"Finally, we can have a completely honest government . . . a government that will report to the American people on every single item of responsibility concerning its stewardship."

-:-

SUCH A REPORT on the entire TVA transaction is needed. It might be done with such simplicity as Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey employed in his statement of our legacy.

At Boise, Idaho, Gen. Eisenhower said:

"Now, we have had for a long time a government that applies the philosophy of the left to government. The government will build the power dams, the government will tell you how to distribute your power, the government will do this and that. The government does everything but come in and wash the dishes for the housewife."

This is not unlike the speech ex-President Hoover delivered at the Case Institute of Technology on "Federal Socialization of Electric Power," in which he said

"Free men can no more permit private economic power without checks and balances than governmental power without checks and balances."

FURTHER, he said:

"The first step toward socialization was taken when the federal government undertook itself to generate and distribute this electric power from multiple-purpose dams. And now the federal government has taken further socialistic leaps by building steam and hydro plants solely for the generation of electric power."

To this, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey said:

"A former president of the United States says, 'Let us get rid of the power dams and all the great public resources.' "

Of course, Mr. Hoover never said anything of the sort. The ex-President only advocated what he always believed, that the federal government make some money out of these plants by selling the power at a fair rate and by leasing government-owned plants to private enterprise, or to municipalities or to state governments or to authorities, like the New York Port Authority, which does a very good job in its own sphere of limited activity.

IN A WORD, the ex-President feels that we can no longer afford the luxury of losing money on enterprises on which we can make money.

Actually what is happening is that the federal government is in competition with private enterprise; the federal plants do not make a reasonable return and pay no taxes; the private plants will ultimately find it impossible to compete with tax-free government plants and will go out of business.

What is required is a non-partisan, practical, business-like approach to this problem in the best interest of the United States.

If the Government is in business, it ought to be for a profit.

Leukemia, Increasing But Still Rare

Leukemia is a disease which was named and recognized more than a hundred years ago. Translated it means "white blood."

The blood does not turn white in leukemia, but it does have a "whiteness" about it which is caused by the destruction of some of the normal red cells and the addition of large numbers of colorless cells which are known as white cells or leucocytes.

Dr. Jordan

Normally there are about 5000 to 10,000 white cells or leucocytes in a cubic millimeter of blood — this being a very small amount of blood indeed. In many forms of leukemia the number of white cells rises to 30,000 or 40,000 and sometimes more than 100,000. There are normal and abnormal kinds of white cells present.

In the rapid or acute cases the body becomes overwhelmed with the abnormal white cells. In such cases weakness develops rapidly. There is likely to be bleeding from the gums or into the skin.

In the slower or more chronic cases, enlargement of the lymph glands in the armpits, groin or neck may be the first sign of the disease. The spleen is also usually enlarged. Increasing fatigue is another common early sign.

The exact diagnosis of leukemia is made by examining the blood under the microscope. This is done by taking a small drop of blood and counting the white cells. The blood is also smeared on a glass slide, stained with special dyes, and examined under the microscope.

It is possible that leukemia is becoming more frequent, although it may still be considered as a comparatively rare disease. It should be realized, too, that there are several kinds of leukemia, depending on the particular variety of white cells involved and on whether the condition is acute or chronic.

Unfortunately the cause of leukemia is not known It is sometimes called cancer of the blood, but this is not really correct because no one is yet entirely sure as to whether it is related to cancer or not. Also, it cannot be cut out by surgery as many cancers are.

Victims of leukemia, particularly those with chronic varieties, often can be helped temporarily by blood transfusions, X-ray treatments over the spleen, or by certain kinds of arsenic preparations taken by mouth. Other methods, including ACTH and cortisone, are being studied, though treatment of any kind is still far from satisfactory.

Bring Back The Yacht!

President Eisenhower has given up the presidential yacht, practically sinking it in two putts. He used the overlapping grip, kept his head down, followed through perfectly and smacked the vessel so hard he put a backspin on it. Ike says he did it for economical reasons, but he can't fool us. The truth is he sees no point in having a yacht until they construct adequate channels between golf holes.

But be that as it may we think that if the President's physician was on the job he would step in and order Ike to keep the yacht. In his own interest and that of the country the President should do less golfing and more yachting.

Golf is a strain on any man, no matter how much fun he thinks it brings him. It has broken down kings, princes, diplomats, industrial tycoons, scientists and physicial giants, but up to now our presidents could take it or leave it

Any time a president flies to Georgia for golf, flies back to Washington for a speech, hurries to a ball game and flies back to the golf course, stopping on the way for another speech as he recently did, he is inviting trouble.

The wonder is not that he was put to bed but that he ever got up. You're carrying golf too far, Ike, and should be compelled by doctor's orders (and if necessary by congressional vote) to spend a little time on that yacht. When aboard ship your stance means nothing, it makes no difference which arm you keep straight and it's impossible to get up to your neck in tall grass.

There is nothing to do but relax, tell the boys where the cocktail shaker is, check on the ice, watch the seagulls and see that the brasswork is kept polished. If you must keep up with the Jones boys, Mister President, split your loyalties somewhere between Bobby Jones and John Paul.

We would like to see a national referendum conducted on whether Ike should play so much golf or keep the Williamsburg in commission, and we think the yacht would win. The people are getting worried over the pace Ike is setting. They want him calm, cool and collected, not hot, bothered and frustrated. They would be happier if they knew he was getting more rest.

A boat, even if it is only an eight-foot rowboat, should be a must for every golfer over fifty. We know from experience. We played golf for years without a 200-foot yacht and look at the shape we are in! It offers one of the very few escapes from the perils of the office foursome and the week-end match.

Golf can make a man feel low, futile and inefficient. A yacht makes him feel high, successful and above worries, especially if the government foots the bills.

Come on, Ike, how about abandoning a couple of golf courses and putting the yacht back in the White House service?

We liked Godfrey's yarn about the tailor who was ordered to count sheep as a cure for insomnia, and who complained it kept him awake longer than ever. . . . 'First I counted one thousand sheep; that made five thousand pounds of wool; then I counted fifteen thousand suits. . . . how was I going to get all those linings?"

Did you notice that Russia's more peaceful attitude developed about the time Ike broke 90? . . . The Kremlin must have realized that no man is as dangerous as when he has learned to putt well.

Daylight saving is here, which means we will have an hour more to do the job we would have otherwise called off on account of darkness.

The Commies, now under an order to register, say they will fight to the Supreme Court of the United States for the right to destroy everyhing, including the Supreme Court of the United States.

New York's sanitation chief says that Edna Ferber in her designation of New York streets as the dirtiest on earth, offers nothing constructive. . . . How about a broom, Edna?

Wynn Notches Second As Indians Edge Athletics, 2-1

Mitchell Drives In Both Runs

7 Of Last 9 Tilts Had 1-Run Margin

CLEVELAND (AP)—Seven of the Cleveland Indians' last nine ball games have been decided by one run.

For the sake of Manager Al Lopez's ulcers and the blood pressure of thousands of Ohio fans, this sort of thing should stop.

The Indians edged Philadelphia's Athletics 2-1 here Wednesday for their fourth one-run-margin victory. They've lost three of these close ones.

Early Wynn won No. 2 against no defeats and allowed the A's four hits. He credited an 18-mile-an-hour wind off Lake Erie.

"With that wind behind me, I figured nobody was going to hit one over the fence. You could take a chance and get the ball in there."

The run that spoiled Wynn's shutout was the last tally of the contest. Eddie Joost doubled in the sixth for the only exra-base blow of the game, and Eddie Robinson's single brought him home.

Southpaw Alex Kellner, losing his first after three victories, gave nine singles,and the top three men of the Tribe batting order—Ray Boone, Bob Avila and Dale Mitchell—got two each. All three hit in the third when Cleveland scored its first run on Mitchell's pop fly which the wind carried over shortstop Joost's head.

Wynn singled in the fifth, advanced on Boone's sacrifice and came home on Mitchell's second single—this one a solid blow to left.

Third baseman Al Rosen ran his string of safe-hit games to 11 and needs five more to equal Luke Easter's 1952 pacemaking run.

AHL All-Star Team Is Announced

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y. (AP) — Ike Hildebrand, right winger of the champion Cleveland Barons, was the only unanimous choice for the 1952-53 American Hockey League all-star team and Guyle Fielder, St. Louis center, was the first rookie ever to win first-team honors.

The all-star selections were announced today through the AHL Service Bureau.

Hildebrand was the only one to poll the maximum of 35 points but two of his Cleveland teammates weren't far behind. Goalie John Bower and left wing Eddie Olson drew 31 points each. Completing the domination of the first team by the Barons, league and Calder Cup playoff champions, was Tommy Williams at defense.

Fielder and Frank Mathers, defense star of the runner-up Pittsburgh Hornets, completed the first team.

WEDNESDAY'S STARS
By The Associated Press

Batting—Joe Adcock, Milwaukee Braves, hit a home run into the center field bleachers of the Polo Grounds—the first time a ball has been hit there in a regular game—as the Braves defeated the New York Giants, 3-2.

Pitching—Bob Porterfield, Washington Senators, tossed a five-hit shutout as the Senators defeated the Chicago White Sox, 3-0.

Braves Defeat Giants, 3-2; Pirates Edge Chicago, 4-3

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sportswriter

If the current rash of long-ball hitting in the majors continues, they're going to have to supply the bleacherites with outfielders' gloves.

First it was Mickey Mantle of the Yankees, then Ed Mathews of the Braves, then Mantle again and now Joe Adcock of the Braves. And the season is only two weeks old.

Mantle still holds the record for the campaign, his first blow traveling 562 feet. That probably won't be equaled for a long time.

But in the matter of accomplishment, Adcock's yesterday off a pitch by the Giants' Jim Hearn was the most notable wallop. I came wih one on and helped the Braves to a 3-2 triumph over the Giants.

More important, though, it was the first ball ever hit into the center field bleachers of the Polo Grounds during a regular season game. The ball traveled 475 feet.

"It surprised the heck out of me," Adcock said. "I knew I had gotten good wood on the ball, but I never thought it was going to travel that far."

The hit came in the third inning, and the Giants eventually tied the game. As things turned out, the Braves had to win it in the ninth inning when knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm let loose a wild pitch. Adcock got to first base when Al Dark made a bad throw on his grounder. He stole second, and advanced to third on catcher Sam Calderone's poor throw. Jim Pendleton went in to run for Adcock and scored on the wild pitch.

The league-leading Philadelphia Phillies lost a full game to the Brooklyn Dodgers, but the second-place Chicago Cubs also were beaten, so Chuck Dressen's defending champions gained on both leaders.

It wasn't that the Phils minded losing so much. It was that the defeat came in a game that pitcher Curt Simmons would had won 99 out of 100 times. He gave up only three hits, but the St. Louis Cardinals beat him in the 11th inning of the night contest, 1-0, when Bill Johnson doubled home Rip Repulski.

The defeat was the first of the season for Simmons. His efforts were matched by Joe Presko of the Cardinals for 9 1-3 innings. Stu Miller and Al Brazle, who got credit for the victory, finished.

The Cubs failed to take advantage of the Phillies' lapse and went down to a 4-3 defeat at the hands of the struggling Pittsburgh Pirates. By their victory, the Buccos moved into a tie for sixth place with the Giants.

Little Murry Dickson went all the way for the Pirates, who looked as if they were about to drop another one when the Cubs scored twice in the eighth to break a 1-all tie. But they came right back with three in their half of the inning. Pete Castiglione knocked in two runs with a timely single.

The Dodgers edged the Cincinnati Redlegs, 6-5. Roy Campanella tied the score with a home run with one on in the eighth, and reliefer Joe Black threw just one ball to gain credit for the victory.

Redleg catcher Hobie Landrith let the winning run in when he was charged with a passed ball in the ninth. Carl Furillo, who was on third after doubling to open the inning, scored.

In the American League, the Indians gained half a game on the idle Yankees when Early Wynn pitched them to a 2-1 decision over the Philadelphia A's. The tribe now is one game behind the Yanks.

Both Indian runs came about in the same way. In the third D. Mitchell singled, scoring Ray Boone, who had singled and gone to second on a sacrifice. In the fifth, Mitchell again singled, this time with Wynn, who had singled and advanced on a sacrifice.

Bob Porterfield hurled the Washington Senators to a 3-0 conquest over the Chicago White Sox. All he needed was one run in the third inning to wrap it up, but catcher Les Peden hit a home run in the eighth and Clyde Vollmer singled across another run in the ninth.

The Boston Red Sox pulled their average up to .500 by bombing the hapless Detroit Tigers, 10-4. Sammy White knocked in five runs and George Kell went into the league lead in batting with a .457 average. The loss was the Tigers' 13th in 15 games.

Berlin Center, Goshen To Vie For 'B' Title

The Goshen Union baseball team will play Berlin Center at 4 p.m. today at Boardman Park for the Mahoning County Class B championship.

Goshen, undefeated so far this season, eked out a close win over Lowellville yesterday afternoon when the Gophers drove in two runs in the last frame of an extra inning game. Final score was Goshen 11, Lowellville, 9.

The Gophers made their runs on 11 hits; Lowellville had four hits. Errors marked the game throughout Goshen committing seven and Lowellville, five.

Excellent pitching by the Gophers' Carl McCartney was one of the highlights of the affair. McCartney struck out 14 batters altogether; nine in one, two, three order in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings.

Lee McCluggage started for Goshen and was relieved by McCartney in the third. The Gopher pitchers struck out 19 batters altogether. Carson McNeely was behind the plate for Goshen.

Primauera started for Lowellville, and was relieved by Haines in the fourth inning. Morocco was behind the plate.

Each team's pitchers gave up a total of 13 bases on balls.

Chuck Davey TKOs Giuliani In 10th To Start Comeback

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—"I was scared. I could feel the pressure of all those people looking at me."

Chuck Davey soaked his bruised left hand in a bucket of ice water. Thick slices of tape covered an ugly cut over his right eye. His left eye was a purplish red.

But he probably didn't feel any pain. He was too elated for that.

He had just started his comeback in impressive fashion, scoring a technical knockout over Sammy Giuliani in 31 seconds of the 10th and final round of their nationally televised fight at the Olympia.

"I was tense tonight," he said. "Everybody was looking at me and I knew it. But the pressure wasn't as bad as against Gavilan."

Last February Gavilan knocked him down four times to successfully defend his welterweight title.

Gavilan flaunted his skills that night, turning southpaw like Davey. Giuliani tried the same—and the results were disastrous.

"I did my best work when he turned left-handed," Davey said. "I got through his guard and got in some good whacks. He's a rough boy but his punches are club-like, not like Gavilan's sharp blows."

Giuliani, a willing 20-year-old over Davey's right eye in the third round and blood poured from brawler from Stamford, Conn., carried the fight to his 27-year-old opponent in the earlier rounds. Two roundhouse rights staggered Davey in the third round.

Giuliani also opened up a cut thrd round and blood pourd from it for the rest of the way.

From the fourth round on, Davey pecked away at head, body, head, body. Sammy became an easy target. He stood flatfooted and Davey danced in, out and around him, at times landing at will.

Referee Clarence Rosen, after consulting with the ring physician, finally called a halt in the 10th. Giuliani had had enough, even though his handlers didn't think so.

Horse Racing Most Popular Sport In U. S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Horse racing, once the sport of kings, is threatening to become the king of sports in America, the New York Times said today in reporting an attendance survey.

The Times said the survey showed attendance at running and troting tracks booming while crowds are declining at major league baseball games and in such sports as basketball and football.

The story by Stanley Levey, cited these figures:

Last year 29,177,027 persons flocked to 77 major running tracks in the United States and Canada, an increase of 2,169,026 over 1951

Last year, 16,763,590 attended the trotting races, making a total of 45,886,617 who came out to watch the horses go.

In those same two years major league baseball attendance dropped from 16,126,676 to 14,635,457 while minor league attendance declined from 27,625,529 to 26,305,32)

Major league attendance has been on a downward trend since 1928 when the record gate of 20,920,842 was set.

Similar slumps have been noted in football and basketball, particularly in college basketball since the "fix" scandals of three years ago.

Horse racing, meanwhile, has been going strong. The Triangle Publications, Inc., reports 8½ million saw running races in 1940. The attendance reached 26 million in 1947, declined slightly for the next couple of years and then staged a stout comeback.

On many occasions this spring, the Jamaica running track and the Yonkers trotting track have drawn 20 times the number of patrons of a major league baseball game in New York (Baseball attendance this spring has been hampered by cold weather and rain.)

In 1952 race goers legally wagered more than two billion dollars.

The Times listed these reasons for the superior attendance record of horse racing: (1) the gambling element, appealing to American instincts; (2) reluctance of racing tracks to turn their programs over to television; (3) decline of quality in major league baseball.

Redlegs Fall Into Cellar On 6-5 Loss

BROOKLYN (AP)—When a team drops behind Pittsburgh's outfit of misfits in the National League standing the situation is getting seriuos. And that is just what the Cincinnati Redlegs have done.

The Cincinnatians donated a 6-5 decision to Brooklyn Wednesday afternoon and a few hours later they dropped into the National League basement — even behind Pittsburgh—when the Pirates edged the Chicago Cubs.

It was a passed ball that came with the bases full and two out in the ninth that beat the Redlegs.

"I've been on the losing side in many a tough ball game but that was the granddaddy of them all," said Manager Rogers Hornsby after the game.

The Reds had blown a 5-3 lead in the eighta when Roy Campanella hit a home run with Jackie Robinson on base. They almost scored on their own in the top of the ninth and then came the brutal finish.

Bubba Church had relieved Howie Judson on the mound. Carl Furillo opened with a double for the Dodgers. Gil Hodges was walked intentionally. Dick Williams sacrificed them along and Junior Gilliam was walked intentionally. Peewee Reese popped out but on Duke Snider's second strike the ball got away from catcher Hobie Landrith and Furillo romped home.

Earlier, the Reds had done a little coming from behind on their own. They wiped out a two-run Brooklyn lead in the second. A single by Willard Marshall and an error by Reese on Roy McMillan's grounder set it up for Landrith to drive them both home with a triple off the center field wall.

Snider's home run put Brooklyn back into the lead in the fifth but Cincinnati burst forth with three runs in the sixth. They came on Bobby Adams first home run of the season and then another round trip wallop by Marshall after Ted Kluszewski had singled and been forced by Jim Greengrass.

McNea Hired At Leetonia

Cuyahoga Falls Man Named Coach

The Leetonia Board of Education has selected Robert McNea, assistant football coach and track coach of Cuyahoga Falls, as football and track coach in the Leetonia Schools.

McNea is a graduate of East High in Cleveland, where he played regular back. He was graduated from Miami University (Ohio) in June, 1948. While at Miami, he played football under the coaching of Sid Gillman and Woody Hayes.

He participated in track at Miami, earning letters in track as well as football.

Since graduating from Miami McNea has been a member of the coaching staff of the Cuyahoga Falls High School (assistant coach on the varsity staff) and during the spring coaching, track, according to D. D. Rummel superintendent of Leetonia High School.

McNea succeeds Bobby Gibson, who resigned last month to go to Austintown Fitch. No replacement has been found for Joe Bernard, Gibson's assistant, who also joined the Fitch coaching staff.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By R. L. LIDE

Stream conditions along Little Beaver creek are not good at present on account of the water stage being above normal. Rains over the weekend brought the water still higher, so the fishermen will just have to wait it out.

Conditions at Gullford Lake had improved to the extent that a few species of the finny tribe became active. Large brown bullhead catfish provided the main sport. The average size being taken was 15 inches. This is unusual because the maximum growth for bullheads is 18 inches. Earl Dixon and son Russell of East Liverpool had seven and one channel cat on the stringer. They were taken on worms. One bullhead measured 16¼ inches. A few bass are being taken.

Blue gills, pumpkinseed, crappies and sunfish were also being taken to provide some sport but their sizes were nothing to get excited about. The water temperature is still too low for good fishing.

I SAW MORE FISH last Saturday on the Middle branch of Little Beaver than I ever want to see again under the same circumstances. There was a flash wave of pollution originating in Lisbon that killed hundreds of fish of various sizes and species. Eye-witnesses reported seeing fish jumping and rolling in agony about 3 p.m. Friday. As soon as I was notified of this condition contact was made with fish technicians who got there as soon as possible.

Water tests were made and all sewers and drains tested in an effort to determine the pollutant. It was impossible to pinpoint the source of pollution but it is hoped that should this fish kill occur again, action will be begun in time to bring about effective prosecution. The time element is important in combatting pollution. It calls for quick action to obtain indisputable evidence for effective court action.

BEAVER CREEK is without a doubt the most beautiful stream in the state, and I have seen a lot of creeks. I have checked the creek banks and the stream bed around Leetonia and Lisbon and have found the most deplorable mess imaginable.

In certain sections it could be referred to as "Tin Can Alley." People living above the stream persist in dumping all their tin cans, light bulbs, bottles, paper cartons and everything into the creek. The high bluffs along the creek in certain sections are strewn with debris from top to bottom. The tin cans shine in the sunlight like the trimmings on a Christmas tree.

It is only a matter of time, if this situation is not corrected, that about all the fishermen can expect to find dangling on the end of their lines will be tin cans.

All townships and municipalities have provided proper dumping grounds yet some people do not seem to realize this. As far as I have been able to learn the county does not have a nuisance inspector. The power of such an officer is very broad. Such an appointment at this time would be a step in the right direction to clean up this mess and prevent recurrences. The sportsmen and farmers I have talked to are one hundred per cent in favor of immediate action.

An intelligent approach to this problem should begin by everyone interested in saving Beaver Creek from complete contamination. There has been some talk around East Liverpool about organizing a Beaver Creek Improvement Club. That movement cannot start too soon. If this club is ever organized don't forget the women. One fine thing about the ladies is when an issue is at stake they get busy and will do something about it even if it is wrong.

Newcomers Set For 79th Derby Saturday

By ORLO ROBERTSON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The 79th Kentucky Derby Saturday might well be labeled the "Newcomers Derby," for not one of the owners of the 12 probable starters ever has seen any of his horses led into the winner's circle and crowned with the garland of red roses.

And with the exception of Greentree Stable, owned by John Hay Whitney and his sister, Mrs. C. S. Payson, and Charles T. Fisher's Dixiana Farm, no owner ever has had more than one thoroughbred in the $100,000 added 3-year-old turf classic.

Greentree, which will be represented by the well-regarded Straight Face Saturday, sent out two winners, Twenty Grand in 1931 and Shut Out in 1942, but in those days the stable was operated by Mrs. Payne Whitney, mother of the present owners.

Since it was established in 1921, Greentree has made 96 horses eligible and 16 have carried the famous watermelon pink and black silks to the post in 10 derbies. In addition, John Hay had a lone entry before his mother's death.

Dixiana colors, which will be flaunted by Spy Defense Saturday, have been represented in nine previous derbies but never came closer than second, with Sweep All in 1931, Spy Song in 1946 and Su Fleet last year.

Of the others only Alfred Vanderbilt, owner of the mighty unbeaten Native Dancer; Mrs. Gordon Guiberson of La Jolla, Calif., whose Correspondent is the second choice; and Harry F. Guggenheim, master of the Cain Hoy Stable, ever have sent a horse to the post in America's most spectacular race. They've each had one. Cain Hoy's hopes, and they are high will be Dark Star, easy winner of yesterday's Derby Trial.

Although he has been a liberal nominator to the Derby, you have to go back to 1934 to find the other Vanderbilt starter. That was the famous Discovery, which ran second to Cavalcade. Mrs. Guiberson's silks were sixth with Arroz last year and Guggenheim, former U. S. ambassador to Cuba, wound up sixth with the favored Battle Morn in 1951.

With the entry box scheduled to open at 7 a. m. tomorrow, the other entries with owners are expected to be Royal Bay Gem, Eugene Constantin, Jr.; Invigorator, Saxon Stable of John Allison and Max Prestridge; Ace Destroyer, T. M. Daniel; Curragh King, E. M. Goemans; Money Broker, G & G. Stable of P. A. Grissom and Edward Grosfield; Ram o' War, and Social Outcast, Vanderbilt.

There also is a possibility that the name of Mr. Paradise will be dropped into the entry box although trainer Howard Hoffman doesn't expect him to start. Social Outcast likewise may not be at the post for the 4:30 p. m. getaway.

If it comes up mud, and the predictions are for possible showers, Vanderbilt definitely will send Social Outcast as a running mate for his illustrious Dancer. And there is a chance he'll go with the track fast.

SOFTBALL TRYOUTS SET

The Democratic Club girls softball team will hold a practice and tryout session at 6:30 p.m. Friday on Reilly Field, next to the stadium. All girls wishing to try out for the team should report.

The GOLDEN EAGLE

SALEM'S GREATEST STORE FOR MEN AND BOYS

CELEBRATE 40TH BIRTHDAY—Shown above is the Salona Supply Co. store and feed mill on W. Pershing St., which will celebrate its 40th birthday Saturday.

In the other picture at right four of the older employes talk over plans for the anniversary party with the relative new general manager. Left to right they are: Robert Knoedler, manager of the machinery and repair department, who has 17 years with the company; M. C. Shreve, chief bookkeeper who has been with the firm 26 years; J. I. Fitzsimmons, office manager, oldest employee with 27 years service; C. R. Green, manager of the hardware division with 19 years service; and S. R. Moore, general manager who has been here one year.

Salona Firm Marks 40th Anniversary

The Salona Supply Co. on W. Pershing St. is planning a 40th Anniversary Day, Saturday at the store, with the public invited.

The company, which was organized in 1913, handles farm macninery and hardware as well as appliances, utensils and tools for the farm, home and dairy.

Besides the implement department on W. Pershing St., the Salona Co. also operates feed mills in Salem, Winona and Garfield.

The feed mills in here and at Winona are as old as the company itself. They were purchased when the company was first organized.

The machinery department was purchased in 1924 and at that time was located on S. Lundy Ave. In 1927 the building on W. Pershing was erected and in 1948 a 40-foot addition was built on the east side of the store.

Special anniversary attractions are offered Saturday.

Mrs. Laura Olson and daughter Dolores and Richard Kresky of Sykesville, Pa., spent the weekend in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. David Burns and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hinchliffe.

Mrs. Clyde Feicht entertained the Jolly Twelve club in her home in Greenford Monday evening with Mrs. David Burns and Mrs. Margaret Spear as guests. Mrs. William Grim, Mrs. Burns and Mrs. Spear won honors in euchre. Mrs. Howard Feicht will entertain the club in two weeks.

Many historians claim that the state of Washington was not named for the first President of the United States, but for Captain Robert Gray's sloop.

Farm Prices Skid Down Further

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prices farmers get for their products have skidded again.

The Agriculture Department reported yesterday farm product prices dropped 2 per cent between mid-March and mid-April to land at a point 10½ per cent below that of a year ago.

The decline was the biggest in any one month since the Eisenhower administration took office. There had previously been a long decline, extending well back into the Truman administration, but in the preceding month prices had climbed back one-third of 1 per cent.

Cattle, milk, some grains and vegetables were among the price losers. Hogs, lambs, eggs and rice went up, but not enough to offset the losses.

Woman Who Stole Baby Shoes Gets Help

EL MONTE, Calif. (AP)—Last Sunday a worried mother stole a pair of baby shoes for one of her three small children.

She did it, she told police because for lack of shoes the tot was unable to play outdoors.

Today the world is looking brighter for Mrs. Patricia Morrison, 27.

She has a $100 check from actress Merle Oberon, and Miss Oberon's attorney is to represent her when she appears for sentencing May 20. Mrs. Morrison pleaded guilty to petty theft charges Monday.

She also has received lesser sums of money from other well wishers, two pairs of shoes from a lady in Beverly Hills, and the offer of a rent-free home.

Harold Keller, 32, an unemployed welder, surrendered himself to police after Mrs. Morrison's arrest and said he was responsible for her trouble. He brought her here in 1948 after deserting his wife and three children in West New York, N.J., he said.

Fernandez Bags 12th Red MIG

Ties Record In Korea; Ground Action Light

SEOUL (AP) — Capt. Manuel Fernandez shot down his 12th MIG today in "the roughest fight I ever had" to tie the individual record for destruction of the Russian-built Red fighters over Korea.

The scrappy 27-year-old jet ace from Miami destroyed the MIG in a fierce air battle just south of the Yalu River. He tied the mark set last month by Col. Royal Baker of McKinney, Tex., who has gone home.

Ground fighting remained light for the fifth straight day.

Fernandez, who asked for 25 more missions after flying the required 10, has 14 left. He's going after the over-all mark of 14 Red planes set by Maj. George Davis, who destroyed 11 MIGs and three propeller-driven planes before he crashed in Red territory in February, 1952.

Red broadcasters took advantage in the ground lull to blare across to Allied troops:

"Thank you for your good treatment of our prisoners of war."

A woman's broadcast voice cooed in the Panmunjom truce sector:

"There is peace in Korea. Lay down your arms."

New Midget Amplifying Devices May Bring Global Television

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The dream of global television may be brought to reality by the new midget crystal amplifying devices called transistors, an industry engineer told broadcasters today.

Neal McNaughton, manager of engineering for the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters, said use of transistors in cables might make it possible to transmit TV programs across water gaps too wide to be jumped by microwave radio beams.

"The answer," he said at the engineering conference of the association's annual convention, "lies in a submarine transistor cable using a transistor repeater unit—smaller than a cigaret—to augment microwave relays between the continents of the world."

Network transmission of TV programs over long distances now is handled by two methods—microwave radio beams relayed between hilltop or mountaintop towers averaging 25 miles apart, and underground coaxial cables. Neither method, however, will work over long water gaps.

Even though a microwave radio beam easily travels far enough to bridge the longest water gap necessary on a route connecting this country with Europe, it travels in a straight line and does not follow the earth's curvature.

The coaxial cable requires repeater or amplifier stations every few miles to strengthen the signal. Such cables could not be operated under the ocean for long distances because of the high electric current requirements of present type repeaters using vacuum tubes.

McNaughton explained that transistors, requiring only a small fraction as much current, might make it possible to develop underwater cables that would bridge the water gaps and connect with microwave facilities covering land portions of the route.

U. S. Casualties Up 623 During Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced late yesterday a weekly increase of 623 in Korean casualties, bringing the total to 134,410 through last Friday.

Total deaths increased by 105 to 21,369.

The report was the first of the department's weekly summaries to reflect the exchange of sick and wounded prisoners. The summary showed a drop of 30 in the number of known captured and an increase of 82 in the number returned to U. S. control.

2nd Army Commander, Gen. Brooks, Retires

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP)—The Second Army bids farewell to "the old man" today. Lt. Gen. Edward H. Brooks steps out as commanding general and turns over the job to Maj. Gen. L. D. Carter.

It's the last assignment for Brooks, who will retire from the service two days before he reaches 60. He is calling it a career after almost 38 years in uniform.

State Goes To Court To Battle Dirty Work

SEATTLE (AP) — The State of Washington objects to some dirty work at the crossroads and has gone to court to remove it.

A complaint filed in Superior Court is labeled:

"State of Washington versus one pile of dirt, rock and gravel."

It seems someone left a pile of dirt, rock and gravel on the Kent-Auburn Road near here. A sign was placed on the pile demanding that it vacate the spot within 10 days. The pile paid no attention.

The court now is asked to declare the pile illegal and instruct the sheriff to get rid of it.

Ike Sets 5 Speeches

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is tentatively scheduled to make five speeches away from Washington from June 10 through June 14—with some fishing in between.

The White House said yesterday the fishing probably would be in South Dakota's Black Hills midway in this speaking schedule:

June 10 at Minneapolis; June 11 at Garrison Dam, N. D.; June 11 at Rapid City, S. D.; June 14 at Dartmouth College in Hanover, N. H., and June 14 at Oyster Bay, Long Island, N. Y.

Letter To Lady Astor

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—An open letter to Lady Astor.

Dear Lady Astor:

You have raised a lot of false male hopes by your statement that women today seem to be getting dumber and dumber.

It isn't fair to mislead men that way. It stirs within them the will-'o-the-wisp dream that maybe women will become so dumb a man wil lbe able to get back his equal rights again and compete with them on fair terms. That is unlikely.

Women may seem to act dumber on the surface, as you say, but they are actually getting smarter and smarter, if the accumulation of more power is the proof of brains.

A man groans and sweats to build a skyscraper. A woman praises his perspiration, pats him on the back, bides her time—and bye and bye she owns the building.

You complain, dear lady, that woman today take everything for granted. Why shouldn't they? It is a sensible attitude. Everything is granted to them. A fact is a fact. The dominant position of the unfair gender is the victory of feminine intelligence over aimless male groping.

Men never knew what they really wanted in this world, and half the wars they have fought throughout history were the result of their boredom. Women do know what they want today, or think they do—power. Public power. It is a new toy to them, and they enjoy playing with it.

As long as woman stood on her age — old pedestal no one could tell whether she was wise or foolish. She kept silent because she was weak, and the only strength of weakness lies in remaining silent.

But success likes to brag about itself. The heady wine of triumph loosens the tongue.

That is why some women today seem to be getting dumber. They are so strong that they are willing to open their trap on any and every subject — from baseball to politics — and let out their natural, normal, human ignorance.

It was there all the time, but hidden. Women don't mind showing their ignorance now because they are sure of themselves. And they get more powerful all the time.

Woman is a brimming reservoir of all kinds of powers, physical, mental, moral and legal. She can do something no biologist can imitate in a laboratory. She can marry a male worm, turn him into a man, and when he starts acting like a rat, she can reduce him easily to the stature of an alimony-paying mouse.

Women today can make men do anything they want. And they themselves can do anything a man can, and bear children besides.

Getting dumber, Lady Astor? No, indeed. The ignorance, disdain, and ingratitude that you complain of in your sex is only the arrogance of new authority, certain of its muscle.

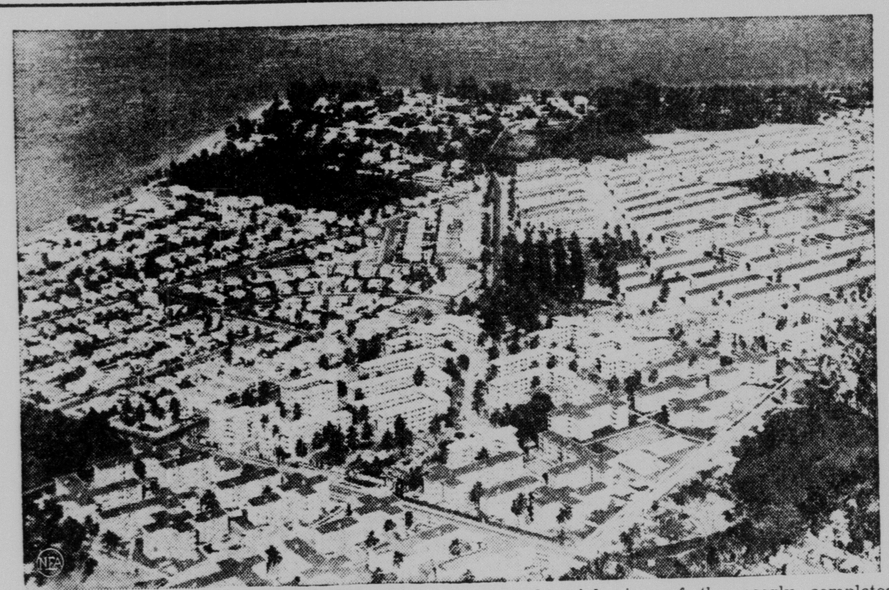
The only hope for the future of men is that women, drunk with power, may start to quarrel among themselves. For when kings fall out — or in this case, queens—lesser breeds may make a gamble for the thrones.

And if women start belting each other around, men may band together and regain their lost bosshood. Hit 'em again, Lady!

sincerely,
Hal Boyle

TO CUT MILK PRICES

CANTON, O. (AP)—Canton milk dealers have changed their minds. They will reduce the price of milk two cents a quart to 21 cents per quart of standard milk, Friday. On April 1, in spite of complaints by producers that the consumer was paying too much at the retail level, they decided to hold the price line.



PUERTO RICO REALLY BUILDS 'EM—This is an unusual aerial view of the nearly completed Llorens Torres housing project near San Juan, P. R., called the most elaborate anywhere under the U. S. flag. There will be 2600 apartments on about 85 acres of land, which will provide living quarters for about 10,000 people. The project cost some $12 billion dollars.

Dozen Housing Developments Planned For Ohio Atom City

WAVERLY (AP) — "Ohio miracle city' is among a dozen housing developments now in the planning stage in Pike County, site of a $1,219,000,000 gaseous diffusion plant, says Spencer B. Randall, county planning engineer.

A Los Angeles company headed by Ralph D. Brown, formerly of Columbus, O., recently purchased a 122-acre tract a mile north of the plant site on route 124 for $73,000.

The firm reportedly plans 200 homes plus business locations and recreation facilities.

Since announcement of the AEC plant site signs of subdivision development have been few. Nevertheless, the planning engineer is busy reviewing and suggesting revision of plants for sub-divisions.

"The picture is in better shape today than 30 days ago,' Randall said. "in another 30 days, actual work on grading should be noticed in several proposed subdivisions.'

To date, Waverly has been slated for the most permanent housing. Officials say this is because Waverly is the only community in the county with municipal water and sewage plants. Approval from FHA hinges on water supply, available sewerage and proximity to corporations.

Detailed plans for "Waverly Heights," a 115-home development by the Shelby Construction Co. of New Orleans, need only approval of the "go ahead." The homes have been given FHA sanction.

Already under construction in Waverly proper is the site for 16 inland homes.

David Berg interests of New York have received the nod from FHA for 115 homes on Route 335 east near the Waverly High School.

Adjacent to the Berg development is "Forest City' subdivision being planned by a Cleveland materials company. Two hundred homes have been proposed in this vicinity by American Homes. Mrs. R. E. Hamilton of Huntington, W. Va., has announced she is planning 450 units on a 190-acre tract, west of town and south of Route 220.

Neighboring Mrs. Hamilton's land is an FHA-approved 130-home tract proposed by National Homes. Architectural firm of Jennings and Lawrence of Columbus is working on detailed plans.

Definite announcement of two government housing developments recently was made. Two hundred and fifty units have been approved for Waverly on Route 220 east o town. Central Construction Co. of Oshkosh, Wis., was awarded the contract on a $1,481,500 bid.

William E. Bergeron, PHA director for the Chicago district, reported the houses are to be completed 238 days after actual construction is started.

The Cissna Farm, east of Piketon on Route 124, has been selected for 500 additional government housing units.

J. W. Cooper, Piketon merchant, plans a private housing development of 52 lots atop Pike Hill on Route 124 east.

Between Piketon and Beaver, near John's Corner and Route 124, work has been started on grading streets and excavating for storm sewers on Lynndale Subdivision. Being developed by Columbus interests, 200 units are proposed but as yet have not been approved.

Approximately 17 trailer parks now are in operation in the county and construction is being completed on an additional 18.

Truck Lobbyists Rapped By Ohio Legislator

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Rep. Samuel L. Devine (R-Columbus) says trucking interests have initiated "a vicious attack, camouflage and smoke screen' to sway legislators.

Devince, chairman of the House sub-committee which recommended the weight-distance tax on trucks to the public affairs committee, says he received 100 letters and 60 telegrams in two days on the bill.

"Thirty-two of those telegrams have the same mistake and the same message. Would you say this is the voice of the public or the voice of the lobbyists?" he asked in a speech in the House.

Devince cited one letter he received from J. C. Immel of Marietta, which criticized House Speaker William Saxbe (R-Champaign) and Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Nelsonville) for "throwing out smoke screens against truck lobbies."

A little later, Gov. Frank J. Lausche issued a warning against what he termed "artificially stimulated" telegrams and letters opposing a weight-distance tax.

Mr. Master Carver

By INEZ ROBB

There are still persons in this country who believe that no boy will ever get ahead in life by just sitting', whistlin' and whittlin'.

Inez Robb

But they are persons who have never heard of W. R. "Bill" Brinley, who through 27 years of sittin', whistlin' and whittlin' has parlayed a pocket knife into a $100,000 investment.

That is the insured evaluation of Bill's mammoth five - ring miniature circus which he started carving at the age of nine after his father took Bill to see his first circus.

IT WAS a case of love at first sight for Bill, who lives in Meriden, Conn. Bill said, "I never wanted to be a clown or a bareback rider or an animal trainer. All I wanted to do from the age of nine was to own a circus.

"The moment I got home from that first circus I took out my pocket knife and started to carve myself a circus. The first thing I carved was a bandwagon because I loved bands so much, I guess.'

In the 27 years since, including a hitch in the air force during World War II, Bill has continued to carve until Bill Brinley's fivering miniature circus today comprises more than 500,000 individually hand-carved pieces.

Brinley's circus, as complete in every detail as Ringling Brothers, includes two complete circus trains, 65 brilliant circus wagons, 165 ferocious beasts and trained jungle animals, a cavalcade of freaks, a congress of daredevil performers, side show thrills, fun and laughter.

THIS BIGGEST little show on earth is carved in exact and loving detail on a scale of three-quarters of an inch to the foot. The circus lot is a platform 25x25 feet square. The gigantic big top with a seating capacity of 10,000 is 16 feet long and nine feet wide.

"The herd of 20 prodigious pachyderms includes three baby elephants," Bill explained. "My herd consists mainly of Indian elephants which have relatively small ears. The African elephants are the ones with the huge ears and we have a few for display purposes only.

"Indian elephants can be trained to perform in the show ring and to work,' he continued seriously, "but African elephants are difficult to train to do anything but eat peanuts."

DURING World War II, when Bill was stationed in Alaska with the air force, he carried his pocket knife and jig saw with him just in case. The two polar bears in Brinley's circus were carved in Alaska although Bill never saw one in its native habitat all the time he was in Alaska.

"I never saw a seal either," he said in some chagrin, "but at least I saw some Eskimo kids chewing on seal meat.'

"Yes, naturally the circus has cooch dancers,' he said in answer to my query. "Three, in fact. They always make money for a circus.'

Now that spring has come Bill is ready to put his show on the road even as Ringling's.

BRINLEY'S circus will tour the country, coast to coast, this year as in the past, showing in department stores, theaters and specialty shops.

"Whittlin' is sedentary relaxing, and soothing to the nerves. Just what modern man needs,' Bill said.

"You might even say,' he added as he ducked through the door, "that a persistent man can carve himself a career."

HELD FOR ROBBERIES

CHARDON, O. (AP) — Geauga County authorities today held Frank S. Baker, 26, of Warren, Nick Swigart, 23, of Cleveland, and a 16 - year - old Clevelander on charges of breaking and entering and grand larceny. They were arrested in Washington County, Pa. in connection with a series of robberies here and in Ashtabula County.

Family Happily Greets 1st Ohio POW Freed

CLEVELAND (AP)—M-Sgt. Ned M. Kelley, Ohio's first repatriated soldier, arrived here in a commercial airliner today and tearfully rushed into the arms of his wife and four-year-old son.

O'Hara Raps State Use Of 'Foreign' Chinaware

State Representative Delmar T. O'Hara declared today that he had requested State Auditor James Rhodes to make a check of the chinaware and plastic dishes purchased by the state for use in its various institutions.

Mr. O'Hara said that a cursory examination revealed that much of the chinaware used in Ohio institutions had been purchased from other states, and that a large amount of plastic dishes also were in use here.

Declaiming knowledge of how widespread the use of these out-of-state products was, Mr. O'Hara said he intended to ascertain why the state could not purchase its chinaware from Ohio manufacturers wherever possible, instead of dealing with other firms.

Mr. O'Hara said also that he planned to protest the state's use of plastic dishes, which was detrimental to the interests of the pottery manufacturers in this district.

due them. She said this was done in self-defense.

Mrs. Garen said sanitation at Cambridge had improved. But ward Attendant Davis said toilet facilities for violent patients were frequently out of order and he occasionally had to spend five to 15 minutes a day cleaning them up. Davis said the patients' behavior was responsible for the condition.

Hospital Director Arthur Hopwood said patients ate meat seven to eight times a week. He said Cambridge compared favorably with many other hospitals he had inspected.

Dr. Hopwood said the press had done a "great injustice' in carrying accusations that several doctors were narcotic addicts. He said his investigation showed one of the men named was never an addict and two others were making "an honest attempt at rehabilitation.'

Mrs. Garen had testified she once saw a nurse, who has since left the hospital, take narcotics.

Freed GI Says Reds Shot Up 40 Truckloads Of U. S. POWs

TOKYO (AP)—A repatriated American soldier today said Chinese troops ruthlessly sprayed 40 truckloads of wounded U. S. soldiers with burp guns, killing most of the nearly 800 helpless, screaming men.

Then the Reds bayoneted many of the survivors, Pfc. Tully Cox, 20, of Altoona, Ala., told newsmen in Tokyo Army Hospital.

Cox, a double amputee, was with the 32nd Regiment of the 7th Division during a retreat through hordes of Chinese Reds Dec. 2, 1950. He was one of about 20 men guarding the 40-truck convoy of wounded.

"There were about 20 wounded to each truck. We were trying to get them out to Hamhung, where the evacuation fleet was waiting,' he said.

The convoy ran into a Chinese roadblock and was overwhelmed. Cox was wounded.

"Then the Chinese climbed up on the trucks and sprayed burp guns into the wounded. Then they bayoneted them. The wounded were screaming. They couldn't do anything.

Cox, only 17 when captured, said two buddies amputated both his feet with a penknife at a Red prison camp they called Death Valley. It is 30 miles north of Changjin Reservoir.

One of his feet had been smashed by a Chinese mortar shell and a rifle bullet cut through the bone of the other leg.

Two buddies helped Cox make the march from the ambush to Death Valley.

"The Chinese shot Americans who couldn't walk," Cox said. "I can't figure out why they didn't shoot me."

At Death Valley, he said, his buddies "took the remainder of my feet off. My feet were frozen and had turned black. I passed out a couple of times. There were two guys there to hold me. It was about 40 below zero.

"There were no medics at all, and my life depended on it. I was pretty well on the road to death. I can't remember what I thought of during the operation. It lasted 20 or 30 minutes.'

During the five months he was in Death Valley, Cox said, there was no medical care and not enough food and "I lost 60 or 70 pounds."

The chinese operated on Cox in the fall of 1951, after he was transferred to Camp No. 1 on the Yalu River. They sewed up the stumps of his legs, amputated just above the ankles.

Ohio Farmers Don't Like Daylight Time

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—It's daylight savings time again, and Ohio's farmers don't like it.

The cows don't know the difference, they say, and it's quite a problem for them to switch their milking schedules.

Clocks in many Ohio cities were turned back an hour at midnight Saturday to add an hour's worth of daylight during the summer months. Farmers say they have to interrupt their work if they want to get to town before the stores close.

A check of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, airlines, railroads and telephone companies shows these Ohio cities among those on Eastern Daylight Savings Time:

Akron, Alliance, Amherst, Ashtabula, Aurora, Avon Lake, Barberton, Bedford, Bellaire, Berea, Bridgeport, Canton, Chardon, Cleveland, Columbiana, Conneaut, Cuyahoga Falls, East Liverpool.

East Palestine, Elyria, Garrettsville, Girard, Hiram, Hubbard, Hudson, Jefferson, Kent, Lakewood, Leetonia, Linndale, Lisbon, Lorain, Madison, Mantau, Massillon, Niles, Oberlin, Orwell.

Painesville, Portland, Ravenna, Rittman, Salem, Steubenville, Vermilion, Wadsworth, Warren, Wellsville, Willoughby, Youngstown, Carrollton, Wellington, Seveille, Brewster, Fostoria, Piqua, Troy, East Liverpool, Strasburg and Andover.

Niles will remain on Standard Time until sometime in May. Others made the switch after Saturday midnight.

1300 WORKERS STRIKE

CANTON, O. (AP)—Thirteen hundred employes of the Berger Division of Republic Steel Corp. walked off their jobs Tuesday night in a dispute over the firing of three workers. The president of the CIO-United Steelworkers Union Local, John Briggs, said the strike was unauthorized. A union meeting was set for today.

Jap Police To Fight Anti-American Riots

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese police laid plans today to thwart a repeat of the bloody anti-American mob violence that accompanied last year's May Day celebrations in Tokyo.

The fully moblized police force will be on special duty throughout the nation May 1. Police in Tokyo, Osaka, Kyoto and other big cities will carry arms. Normally they carry only night sticks.

Communist and leftist-led rallies again are slated throughout the nation. Police said more than one million persons are expected to attend about 420 May Day meetings.

Goodman Won't Rejoin Band's Present Tour

NEW YORK (AP)—Benny Goodman, who collapsed from fatigue in Boston four days after starting a tour, will not rejoin his band during its present trip through the East and Midwest.

USING HORSE SENSE

MARK DOWN the name of Rick as one of Hollywood's rising stars. Rick is the clever horse ridden by Keith Larsen, who also is climbing the way to stardom in western pictures. Rick can do such an ordinary trick as counting with his hoof, but he's really at his best out on the trail. He helps Larsen pitch his tent, then unfolds the blankets and takes off his master's boots. Finally, reversing the procedure of a comboy sleeping in the saddle, Rick sleeps on saddle himself. About the only thing Rick can't do is make morning coffee.

Novel Apple Desserts Make Pleasing Change

Here are two novel, interesting apple desserts which offer an inviting change from the usual pies, dumplings and puddings. These require only a minimum of preparation time and both are especially timely now while local markets are featuring those popular spicy red apples.

If you like the gourmet flavor of sour cream, this makes a delicious topping for the creamed apple slices, but, if you prefer, you can serve with plain or whipped cream. The brown sugar apple crumble, served warm, may also be topped with cream or whipped cream.

CREAMED APPLE DESSERT

4 apples
2 teaspoons cinnamon
4 tablespoons sugar

Cut unpeeled apples into half inch slices. Spread with sugar and cinnamon and dot with butter. Broil under moderate heat until tender, about 10 minutes. Top with sour cream, plain or whipped cream. Serves 4.

BROWN SUGAR APPLE CRUMBLE

6 apples
½ cup flour
2-3 cup brown sugar
4 tablespoons butter or margarine

Core apples and cut into thin slices. Arrange in baking dish. Combine flour, brown sugar and butter or margarine to make a crumbly mixture, and spread this over the apple slices. Bake in a hot oven (425F) 35 minutes. Serve warm. Serves 4.

GROUND BEEF IDEAS

What to make with ground beef? Form it into large and small meat balls, meat loaves; use to stuff tomatoes, onion cases, green peppers, cabbage leaves; make it into meat pies, casseroles, turnovers.

BACON ATOP

Here are open-face sandwich treats for your family. Top slices of Boston brown bread with baked beans, sprinkle with grated cheddar cheese and arrange bacon strips over the top. Broil until the bacon is crisp and the cheese is bubbly.

Dust the wall space behind picture frames once in a while to prevent dirt from accumulating and forming a dark outline.

Braise Duckling With Mushrooms

Serving the family a varied menu is one of the best ways to brighten the drearier days. And it can be as interesting for you as it is delicious for them. This recipe for braised duckling with mushrooms, for example, is one way to make the menu outlook sunnier and it's surprisingly easy to prepare.

BRAISED DUCKLING WITH MUSHROOMS

- 1 Long Island duckling
- 1½ cups orange or grapefruit juice
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 3-oz. can sliced broiled mushrooms
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 tablespoon shredded lemon rind

Cut duckling in quarters. Remove backbone, neck and wing tips. Wash duckling in cold water and dry carefully. Place quartered duckling, skin side up, on rack in roasting pan. Roast, uncovered, in slow oven, 325 F., until most of the fat has cooked out of duck skin, about 1 hour.

Meanwhile cook giblets, neck, backbone and wing tips in orange juice until tender, about 45 minutes. Strain off broth. Allow any fat to rise and pour it off. Place 1 cup of the broth in a saucepan. Combine and add cornstarch and contents of can of mushrooms.

Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Add salt, sugar, and lemon rind. Finely dice and add the giblets, if desired. Place duckling in a 1½-quart baking dish. Pour sauce over duckling and cover tightly.

Replace in oven and continue baking until duckling is tender, about 30 minutes longer. Serve immediately over hot cooked rice. Yields 4 generous servings.

SPECIAL EGG SALAD

- 5 hard-cooked eggs
- ½ cup coarsely chopped celery
- ¼ cup chopped or ready-diced almonds
- ¼ cup mayonnaise
- 2 tablespoons cream
- ½ teaspoon salt
- freshly ground pepper
- lettuce
- ripe olives
- paprika

Peel eggs and slice thin crosswise. Add celery and almonds. Blend mayonnaise with cream, salt and pepper. Pour over egg mixture and toss lightly. Arrange in lettuce cups. Garnish with ripe olives and sprinkle of paprika. Makes 4 servings.

Use Spanish Lamb For Several Meals

A tiny secret to saving time — when you know you're going to have leftovers anyway, why not get ready for them in preparing the original dish? Make one recipe serve you for more than one meal.

Roast leg of lamb for instance, takes very well to a litt'e extra special seasoning treatment when it's served hot; and in this slightly dressed up state is fully as tasty sliced and cold. This spanish lamb will serve you well in both time and flavor as a more-than-one meal recipe.

SPANISH LAMB

- 1 leg of lamb
- 1 garlic clove, mashed
- ½ teaspoon oregano
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- ¼ teaspoon Tabasco
- 20 small stuffed olives
- 2 strips bacon, each cut in 5 pieces.
- 10 cocktail onions (tiny pickled onions)

Make 10 holes about 2 inches deep on top of surface of lamb, using handle of sturdy wooden spoon. Combine garlic, oregano, salt, monosodium glutamate, lemon juice and Tabasco; mix well. In each hole, insert an olive, a piece of bacon, an onion, some of the garlic mixture and a second olive. Roast lamb in open roaster in moderate oven (325 F.) 30 to 35 minutes per pound.

MARSHMALLOW FUDGE PIE

- 24 marshmallows
- 2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate
- ½ cup butter or margarine
- 2 eggs (separated)
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- ½ cup sifted flour
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- ice cream or whipped cream for topping.
- 1 graham cracker crust

Prepare crust according to directions below. Put marshmallows, chocolate and butter in top of double boiler. Cook over boiling water, stirring occasionally, until melted and blended. Remove from heat; cool slightly. Beat egg yolks slightly; stir slowly into chocolate mixture. Beat egg whites and salt until foamy; gradually beat in sugar, continuing to beat until stiff; fold into chocolate mixture. Turn into graham cracker crust. Bake in slow (325F.) oven 30 to 35 minutes or until pie is puffed across the top. Serve warm with ice cream or whipped cream.

Note: To make graham cracker crust blend together 1 2-3 cups fine graham cracker crumbs (20 crackers), ¼ cup softened butter or margarine and ¼ cup sugar. Press firmly into an even layer against bottom and sides of 9-inch pie plate.

SAVORY TOMATO CHEESE RABBIT

- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 3 tablespoons flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon dry mustard
- ½ teaspoon curry powder
- ¾ cup milk
- ¾ cup drained canned tomato
- 2 cups grated cheddar cheese (medium fine and lightly packed)

In heavy saucepan over low heat, melt butter. Add flour, salt, mustard and curry powder; blend well. Add milk all at once and cook and stir over low heat until thickened. Add tomato and cheese and stir until cheese is melted; increase heat slightly if necessary to get rabbit very hot, but watch carefully to see that you do not use too much heat or cheese will get stringy. Serve at once over crisp saltines. Makes 4 servings.

Note: The tomatoes drained from a 10-ounce can will give the ¾ cup needed in this recipe.

Olives, Almonds Go Well With Cheese

As you drive up and down California, you see groves of olive trees and almonds and you get to thinking of good things to eat, using these gifts of nature. Here are two delectable thoughts we had along the way:

Springtime Souffle
(Serves 4)

- One-third cup roasted unblanched almonds
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1½ teaspoon paprkia
- ¼ cup mushrooms
- ½ cup grated American cheese
- 3 eggs

Chop almonds or put through food chopper, using medium knife. Melt butter and blend in flour. Add milk and cook and stir until thickened. Add salt, paprika, mushrooms and cheese and cook over low heat until cheese melts.

Separate eggs. Beat yolks and whites separately.. Stir yolks and almonds into cooked mixture. Fold in whites. Turn into greased 1-quart casserole and set in pan of hot water. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 45 minutes. Serve at once.

Olive Rabbit
(Serves 4)

- Two tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup tomato juice
- 1¼ teaspoons salt
- ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- dash of cayenne pepper
- 1½ cups grated sharp American cheese
- 1 egg
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- ½ cup chopped ripe olives
- 5 Holland rusks

Melt butter and blend in flour. Add tomato juice, salt, Worcestershire sauce and cayenne and cook and stir until thickened. Add the cheese and cook and stir until cheese is melted. Gradually blend in lightly beaten egg, parsley and olives. Continue cooking 3 to 4 minutes.

RAISIN PINEAPPLE MUFFINS

- 2 cups sifted flour
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1-3 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- ¼ cup butter or margarine (melted)
- ½ cup milk
- ¼ cup pineapple juice (drained from can of crushed pineapple)
- 1 cup seedless raisins (rinsed and drained)
- ½ cup drained crushed pineapple

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. In mixing bowl beat egg vigorously with rotary beater for 1 or 2 minutes; beat in melted butter, then milk and pineapple juice; stir in raisins and crushed pineapple. Add sifted dry ingredients all at one time; mix only until moistened. Fill greased muffin pans about two-thirds full. Bake in hot (400F.) oven 20 to 25 minutes. Serve hot.

Try New Recipes For Duckling Dishes

Fresh or frozen Long Island duckling goes all over the country these days, ready to be put into luscious dishes. Want to try something new? Team the duckling with a handy can of apple slices for a casserole, or cook it with tomato sauce and serve it with spaghetti.

DUCKLING-APPLE CASSEROLE

1 ready to cook Long Island duckling (4 to 5 pounds)
1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ginger
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons fat
1 No. 2 can sliced apples
½ cup apple cider
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Cut duck into serving size pieces. Mix kitchen bouquet, salt, ginger and pepper in a large bowl. Add duck and toss gently together with fork to coat thoroughly.

Melt fat in skillet and brown duck in it over moderate heat. Meanwhile arrange half of sliced apples, including juice, in bottom of greased 2½ quart baking dish. Add duck.

Arrange remaining apples around edge of baking dish. Heat cider and lemon juice to boiling point and pour over duckling. Cover tightly and bake in moderate oven (350F) until duck is tender, about 2 hours. Serve in casserole. Makes 4 generous servings.

DUCKLING ITALIENNE

5 to 6 pound Long Island duckling (dressed weight)
2 tablespoons fat
½ cup finely diced onion
¼ cup finely diced celery
one 8 ounce can (1 cup) tomato sauce
1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet
1½ teaspoons sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon oregano
1 pound spaghetti

Wash duck in cold water and dry. Cut off wing tips; cut in serving size pieces. Melt fat in deep skillet or Dutch oven. Add duck and brown over moderate heat.

Add onion and celery and cook about 5 minutes longer. Mix tomato sauce, kitchen bouquet, sugar and oregano. Pour over duck. Cover tightly and bring to boil. Cook until duck is tender, about 45 minutes.

Meanwhile cook giblets, neck and wing tips in boiling salted water adding 1 tablespoon salt per quart.

When ready to serve, remove pieces of duck from sauce. Pour off fat, chop giblets and add to tomato sauce if desired. Drain spaghetti and mix well.

Arrange spaghetti on serving platter. Top with pieces of duckling and serve with a tossed green salad. Makes 6 servings.

Making Swiss Steak? Then add a little prepared mustard, chili powder, and a bay leaf to the tomatoes in which you braise the beef.

Orange Glaze Buns Make Breakfast Hit

Lazy Marys won't need a second call to breakfast if they know that orange glazed breakfast buns are the special treat of the hour. Enough to bring most everyone quickly to the table with that look of eager anticipation, they'll bring compliments after the very first bite.

ORANGE GLAZE BREAKFAST BUNS

2 cups pancake ready mix
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
¼ cup shortening
1 egg, beaten
1 cup milk
½ cup chopped dates
½ cup confectioners' sugar
1 tablespoon orange juice
few grains salt
chopped nutmeats (optional)

Mix together pancake ready-mix, sugar and grated orange rind. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Combine beaten egg and milk; add all at once to dry ingredients, stirring only until combined. Fold in chopped dates.

Drop batter by tablespoons onto greased baking sheet. Bake in a hot oven (425 F.) about 15 minutes. Remove from baking sheet; drizzle glaze (made by combining confectioners' sugar, orange juice and salt) over hot buns and sprinkle with nutmeats. Serve immediately. Makes 12 quick buns.

Saw off the legs of an old kitchen table so it's the right height for small fry to sit at comfortably and you'll have a good play table for them.

MARSHMALLOW SAUCE

1 cup sugar
½ cup water
¼ pound (about 16) fresh marshmallows (quartered).
2 egg whites
½ teaspoon vanilla

Mix sugar and water together in saucepan. Stir over low heat until sugar is melted; bring to a boil and boil over moderate heat without stirring for 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Add marshmallows; stir until melted. Beat egg whites until stiff; pour marshmallow mixture over egg whites and beat until blended. Beat in vanilla. Makes about 2½ cups sauce. Serve over squares of unfrosted chocolate cake.

1 pound lean ground beef
1 1-pound can yellow or white cream style corn
1 2-ounce can mushrooms (buttons or slices)
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Add Tobasco to milk; pour over crumbs in mixing bowl. Add salt. Mash crumbs in milk until they become a soft mass. Add ground meat and mix well with a fork. Divide mixture into 4 patties. Shape over inverted custard cups, pressing meat ¾ of the way down. Place in shallow baking pan.

Bake in slow oven (325F.) 45 minutes. During the last 15 min. baking time, drain whole kernel corn and mushrooms. Add onion to liquid and boil rapidly until reduced to ¼ cup. Add corn, mushrooms, reserving several for garnish and butter; heat to serving temperature.

Remove meat cups; spoon in corn and mushrooms. If desired, garnish with pimiento and mushrooms.

Yields 4 servings.

Note: If yellow or white cream style corn is used, drain mushrooms. Add onion to liquid and boil rapidly until reduced to two tablespoons. Add corn, mushrooms and butter; heat to serving temperature.

SPINACH RING

1 cup boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
one 14-ounce package frozen chopped spinach
pepper
¾ teaspoon finely grated onion (juice and pulp)
1 egg
2 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted)

Add ½ teaspoon of the salt and frozen spinach to boiling water. Bring rapidly to boil again; reduce heat and boil gently, stirring as necessary to break up spinach, just until tender — about 3 minutes. Drain; there should be about 1½ cups drained spinach. (Reserve cooking liquid to use in soup). Stir into spinach remaining ½ teaspoon salt, pepper (to taste) and onion. Beat egg just until yolk and white are combined; stir gradually and vigorously into spinach; stir in the melted butter. Turn into small (2 cup) well buttered ring mold.

Place mold in 8-inch square baking pan; fill pan with hot water so that water reaches about two-thirds way up mold. Bake in moderate (375F) oven 25 to 30 minutes or until firm. Loosen edges of spinach ring with spatula; unmold on serving plate. Fill center with creamed eggs; put some of the eggs around outside of spinach ring if too much for center. Makes 4 servings.

CHEESE PANCAKES

1¾ cups sifted flour
1-3 cup nonfat dry milk
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 egg, slightly beaten
1½ cups water
2 tablespoons salad oil
¼ lb. sharp process cheese, shredded

Sift together flour, nonfat dry milk powder, baking powder, sugar and salt. Combine slightly beaten egg, water and salad oil. Stir in sifted dry ingredients and mix until almost smooth. Stir in shredded cheese.

Pour ¼ cup batter onto hot griddle and cook until bubbles form over entire surface; turn and cook other side until golden brown. Serve hot. Makes 14.

Meat loaf is good baked in an eight inch square pan; spread the meat mixture with a little catsup or chili sauce before putting in the oven.

Party Spice Cake Treat For Guests

Once the weather begins to warm up and the days are bright and sunshiny, guests drop by more frequently. And this calls for refreshments. A delicious home-baked cake is good to have on hand for the family as well as drop-in company. If the cake eaters in the family don't see this first and finish it, you'll find out how fine this party spice cake is for company.

PARTY SPICE CAKE

3 cups sifted cake flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
1 teaspoon ground nutmeg
½ cup shortening
1½ cups sugar
2 unbeaten eggs
1 cup liquified nonfat dry milk

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg. Cream shortening. Gradually add sugar; cream until light and fluffy. Add unbeaten eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition.

Alternately add dry ingredients and liquified nonfat dry milk beginning and ending with flour mixture. Mix only enough after each addition to blend thoroughly. Pour batter into two 9-inch layer pans (greased, waxed paper lined and greased again).

Bake in a moderate oven (375F.) about 20 to 25 minutes, or until top springs back when lightly touched with finger. Allow to cool in pans five minutes. Turn out onto cake racks. When cooled, frost with zippy mocha frosting.

Zippy Mocha Frosting: Sift together 3½ to 4 cups confectioners sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ⅛ teaspoon ground cloves, 1 teaspoon ground nutmeg, 3 tablespoons cocoa and 2 teaspoons instant coffee. Cream ½ cup butter until light and fluffy.

Gradually beat in half of the sugar - spice mixture; blend well. Gradually stir in 4 or 5 tablespoons liquid nonfat dry milk; mix until smooth and well blended. Add remaining sugar - spice mixture. Beat until fluffy.

HOT BISCUIT SQUARES

2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
⅛ teaspoon allspice
6 tablespoons shortening
½ cup raisins (rinsed in hot water and dried)
1 egg
2-3 cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, sugar, cinnamon and allspice. Cut in shortening with pastry blender until fat particles are tiny. Add raisins. Beat egg slightly; add milk and beat enough to combine. Add to flour mixture, stirring with fork only enough to moisten flour. Turn out on lightly floured board or prepared pastry cloth. Kead 30 seconds. Roll and shape into square about 8 by 8 inches and about ½ inch thick. Cut into 16 two-inch squares. Place on baking sheet. Bake in hot (425 F) oven 12 to 15 minutes or until lightly browned.

Cream puffs are wonderful for a party dessert when they are filled with vanilla ice cream and served with a chocolate or butterscotch sauce, or one made from frozen strawberries.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

A few days ago the news sifted through that one of Walter Reuther's Auto Union locals had invested $10,000 in a Continental Motors jet engine unit to help keep jobs in Muskegon, Michigan — so we began looking around for more of this friendly collaboration, and what do we find?

Victor Riesel

Unions all over the lot have heavy Wall Street investments — including my old feuding partners over at the Distributive, Processing and Office Workers Union which shows up with $11,000,000 in the smartest Wall Street portfolio I've yet seen.

Furthermore, these old left-wingers tell me they will make over $750,000 in profits and dividends this year.

SO HEAVY is their buying and selling, they have seriously considered purchasing a seat on the Stock Exchange for $40,000. This would save them considerable money in brokerage commissions.

But the boys who in the old days never let a week go by without some denunciation of this stodgy capitalism of ours, figured that a seat on the Stock Exchange was not the fashionable thing to have in their circles.

However, now that they're about to merge their purged union officially with CIO, styles may change. The Exchange may yet have its first union oficial sitting around on the board of governors telling the lads from the Union League Club just what the latest blasts from abroad really mean.

When I heard from the union chief that they were going to roll up three quarters of a million dollars this fiscal year, I asked for and got a look at the portfolio—and decided then and there that no matter how Wall Street is hissed in the future, the class struggle has no chance in these United States.

UNION PRESIDENT Arthur Osman said his militant outfit had holdings in over 10 companies—with the biggest blocs of securities in American Telephone and Telegraph, General Motors, U.S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, American Airlines, A. C. Bohack, Eastern Airlines, Kelsey Hayes Wheel, Ohio Edison, Detroit Edison, Socony Oil, several railroads, radio companies, tobacco firms and bonds in Sinclair Oil.

The union president just wasn't taking any kidding on this Wall Street "colloboration." And what he said made sense.

"Our concept of investment for the Security Plan and Pension Fund is to use the reserves in such manner as to get the greatest possible yield, as a result of which all improvements and higher payments to our people come from this increased income out of the stock market rather than asking for greater contributions from the employers.

"We're trying to avoid imposing on industry any burdens which can be avoided. We have close to $11,000,000 invested and we guide ourselves by the laws controlling trust funds. By careful investments and resale of issues our union now gets a yield averaging six per cent."

IF ALL you capitalists will now line up on the right we'll find out how the left does it. Six per cent is not bad. And it now appears that other unions have been "collaborating" too.

The AFL Electrical Workers Brotherhood has picked up some $9,000,000 worth of stocks and bonds—which nets it a profit of almost $200,000 a year. The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen has much of its $53,000,000 in railroad and utility stocks. The rest is in government bonds.

Of course, there are scores of unions with big real estate holdings, banks and even a coal mine (John Lewis' union owns one).

Through these banks, the unions frequently lend money to employers in trouble. Especially now, with defense cutbacks threatening to shake some firms, we find closer cooperation between labor and management.

SINCE WE'LL soon enough hear some bitter name calling as the steel, coal and auto contract negotiations hit the news, let it be reported here that after the lungs are exercised in this field, the boys do right well together most of the time.

Teamsters leader Dave Beck went out to Cleveland the other day and told his boys publicly that anyone can strike, but that, "It takes guts and sound principles to say 'no' (to strike talk) . . ."

The AFL Meat Cutters leaders, controlling tens of thousands in the fields which feed America, met in Chicago last week and had the employers there to tell the delegates that the new automatic supermarkets won't hurt jobs, so they should work with the employers.

And an AFL Hotel Union removed its picket line for three days at the Whitman Hotel in Pueblo, Col., as a courtesy to the local Chamber of Commerce which had arranged a conference there months before the strike.

What is this thing called class struggle?

DEFIANT WITNESS — Mrs. Theodora Golstein, a 1939 graduate of Hunter College, N. Y., and now a Boston secretary, shown as she appeared before the House un-American Activities Committee in Washington. She was later ejected from the hearing room after she defiantly refused to say if she is or ever was a Communist.

Crimes In Ohio Rose 1,269 During 1952,

WASHINGTON (AP) — Crimes committed in Ohio cities rose by 1,269 last year, but their percentage increase was well below the national average.

The annual FBI report on crime across the nation showed that police in Ohio reported 66,466 offenses in 150 Ohio cities in 1952 as compared with 65,197 the previous year.

This represents a rise of nearly two per cent, but the national average went up over eight per cent.

The FBI report showed these figures on crimes of a serious nature in Ohio's cities (1952 totals first)

Murder and non-negligent manslaughter, 200 and 198; negligent manslaughter, 149 and 124; rape, 320 and 389; robbery, 2,033 and 1,859; aggravated assault, 1,931 and 1,761; burglary, 13,534 and 12,440; larceny, 42,510 and 42,718; and auto theft, 5,789 and 5,708.

No statistics were provided for rural crime in Ohio.

Turkey which was still importing grain in 1950 has become the fifth largest grain exporter in the world says the National Geographic Society.

good records are meant to be beaten

THE INFANTILE DEATH RATE in the United States is very low. From 1934 to 1936 we ranked seventh in the world, led only by New Zealand, Holland, Australia, Norway, Switzerland, and Sweden.

Yet 70,000 infants die annually in the first month of life, and 53,000 more from the second to the twelfth month. How many of these precious infants might have lived had their mothers had adequate prenatal care under the direction of a competent physician?

It is now up to the mothers to take advantage of the knowledge and skill of the physician during the trying months of pregnancy. We are ready to supply the needed dietary supplements and other medication ordered by your physician.
